Senate Unit Eyes Dodd's Punishment

Condemnation Or Censure Or Both Committee's Aim

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Ethics Committee has tentatively decided that censure or condemnation — and possibly both — is the punishment it will recommend for Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, sources close to the panel report.

Meeting privately in a hideaway office at the Capitol, the bipartisan committee which investigated misconduct charges against the Connecticut Democrat has abandoned all other possible forms of rebuke, these sources said.

Earlier this month it was learned the committee would recommend neither expulsion nor exoneration of Dodd. The full Senate makes the final decision.

The six-member Select Committee on Standards and Conduct resumes its secret deliberations today, which one source said are reaching the climactic stage.

The committee reportedly is still debating which term — censure or condemn — is the stronger and whether the stronger should be used.

Knowledgeable sources willing to discuss the committee deliberations — and they were few — refused to indicate which aspects of Dodd's conduct would be specified as the basis for proposed Senate punishment.

In two sets of open hearings, the committee has heard testimony on Dodd's financial affairs and his relationship with Chicago public relations man Julius Klein, once a registered agent for West German business interests.

Dodd has denied wrongdoing. In his most recent statement April 14, Dodd said, "I have received many evidences that the people of Connecticut, in their overwhelming majority, believe that I have represented them effectively and honestly."

Dodd could not be reached for comment on the latest report of committee deliberations. Nor could committee Chairman John Stennis, D-Miss., be contacted. He has refused to discuss the case publicly.

Dodd has been accused of:

—Converting to his personal use the proceeds of testimonial dinners which raised nearly $190,000. Dodd has acknowledged he used testimonial money to pay off debts and meet what he called "personal-political expenses."

But he has insisted the testimonial donors intended the money as a personal gift, to be used as he saw fit, not as political contributions.

Astronauts Eager To Continue Program

Full Confidence In Apollo Expected After Changes

WASHINGTON (AP) — An astronaut spokesman says spacemen will have full confidence in their Apollo craft — when changes are made to prevent a recurrence of the launch pad blaze that killed three of their fellow astronauts.

"We're confident in our management, our engineering and ourselves," said Col. Frank Borman, one of five astronauts who testified Monday night before congressmen investigating the Jan. 27 Apollo fire at Cape Kennedy, Fla.

He said they are eager to get on with the program to land men on the moon.

Borman told the congressmen, "I think the question really is: Are you confident in us?"

The congressmen clearly are. But they — and the astronauts — expressed some reservations.

Testifying with Borman at the start of the second week of congressional hearings on the accident were Donald K. Slayton, Navy Capts. Walter R. Schirra Jr. and Alan B. Shepard Jr. and Air Force Lt. Col. James A. McDivitt. They appeared before a House subcommittee that oversees the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

While the astronauts had no doubts that the causes of the fire could be overcome, they indicated there may be future dangers that cannot be anticipated.

Slayton, now director of flight crew operations, testified "I know of absolutely no case when we've compromised crew safety — knowingly."

But he said, "Obviously we may be doing so right now without knowing it."

Speaking frankly and in their own colorful language, the astronauts readily admitted they had failed to realize the hazard involved in the Jan. 27 tests.

"It's obvious that we goofed," said Schirra. Slayton said it was his responsibility to call off the tests on the spot if anything was wrong "but I wasn't that smart and we didn't."

The fire took the lives of Air Force Lt. Cols. Virgil I. Grissom and Edward H. White II, and Navy Lt. Cmdr. Roger B. Chaffee.

Shepard, the nation's first man in space, said all five astronauts had read the April 2 final report of an Apollo accident review board and agreed with its findings.

All said they agreed that Grissom had nothing to do with starting the fire.

In earlier testimony, an official of North American Aviation Inc. — prime contractor for the spacecraft — said it had been considered possible Grissom might have kicked a wire, causing a spark.

Borman produced photographs of tests conducted Feb. 28 in which, he said, the astronauts determined that Grissom could not have kicked the wire in question.

The review board concluded that the most probable cause was an electrical arc resulting from a damaged or broken wire.

Both Sides Would Pull Forces Out

De-Escalation Of War Also Proposed By Saigon Regime

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnam offered anew today to talk peace with Communist North Vietnam and proposed that both sides pull back their forces from the demilitarized zone and de-escalate the war.

A U.S. spokesman said the South Vietnamese government discussed its proposal with U.S. officials before issuing it and the U.S. government welcomed the offer.

The South Vietnamese proposed peace talks amid continuing clashes in the northernmost provinces below the demilitarized zone and as 1,500 Saigon government troops launched a new drive in the Mekong Delta 42 miles southwest of the capital.

U.S. and South Vietnamese forces reported 90 of the enemy killed by ground forces and helicopter gunships in clashes near the northern border and about four miles from Hue, the old imperial capital. U.S. losses were three killed and seven wounded, a spokesman said. Government casualties were reported light.

A Vietnamese spokesman said government forces killed 15 Viet Cong guerrillas in the initial hours of the new drive in the Mekong Delta while taking no casualties.

Along the central coastal plains, the spearheads of two South Korean divisions neared a linkup in a drive from the north and from the south to open up a long stretch of the vital coastal Highway 1.

Advance elements of the Korean Tiger Division, driving southward from Song Cau, were reported about to join up with units of the White Horse Division pushing north from Tuy Hoa.

The linkup will close the 37-mile stretch between the two coastal cities and extend the central coastal stretch in allied hands to a distance of 235 miles from Qui Nhon to Tan Lam.

The drive, the South Koreans' biggest operation of the war, started March 8, and some 10,000 Korean troops from the two divisions were deployed in it. The Koreans have claimed killing 830 Communist troops and capturing 417.

The South Vietnamese peace offer was contained in a communique from the Foreign Ministry which welcomed peace proposals put forth April 11 by Canada. The communique broadly paralleled the four-stage Canadian proposals.

Moon Landing Due Wednesday

Surveyor Back On Track After Crucial Maneuver

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Surveyor 3, fired back on the track in a crucial space maneuver, zeroed in on the sun and stars today in America's first try at digging the moon.

The spacecraft, equipped with spindly, arm-like shovels, is aimed at the moon's Sea of Storms, the probable lunar landing site for future U.S. astronauts.

Touchdown for the 2,283-pound moon device, the most complicated yet developed by the United States, is about 7 p.m. EST Wednesday.

No problems developed during the first half of the 237,000-mile journey, said scientists at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory at California Institute of Technology.

A midcourse trajectory correction was completed at midnight Monday by a series of rocket bursts and the spacecraft locked back onto the sun and star Canopus for guidance moments later.

"The vehicle quickly regained the sun," a spokesman for the control agency said, "and this was very crucial."

He said 12 more hours of tracking were needed before the maneuver could be termed a complete success "but all indications are it was."

The trajectory correction was performed by the Goldstone Tracking Station on California's Mojave Desert.

After the spacecraft plunks down on the moon Wednesday evening, a signal from earth will actuate Surveyor 3's spidery diggers and send them clawing at the moon's surface.

The handsized scoops, able to bite as well as dig, should show scientists whether the surface could support a manned spacecraft. Its mechanical jaws are strong enough to crack concrete.

Before it can land to explore the nature of the moon's surface, however, the spacecraft must be slowed from 6,000 miles per hour, turn around and lower on a cushion of fiery rockets at a scant 3 m.p.h.

"Once the ship is turned around and begins the landing maneuver," a spokesman said, "no one on earth will be able to help. The maneuver is completely automatic."

Standing on tripod legs, Surveyor 3 hopefully will dig and take pictures for two weeks.

Lausche Backs 'OBC' Proposal

CLEVELAND (AP) — The proposed Ohio Bond Commission received endorsement from U.S. Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, and criticism from the Cleveland chapter of Americans for Democratic Action Monday.

Lausche, speaking at the annual luncheon of the Cleveland Port Authority, said "I'm going to support it and vote for it."

The proposal on the May 2 ballot calls for appointment by the governor of a five-man commission which would have authority to float bonds for capital improvements without specific approval of the voters.

Officers of the Cleveland chapter of ADA said Ohio's greatest need now is for more operating funds, not more capital improvement money.

Dr. Laurance White, Cleveland ADA chairman, said there is "no crisis for capital improvements in Ohio" and there should have been no rush to get the proposal on the ballot.

Bonds issued by the commission would be repaid from the state's general revenue fund.

Dr. White said the funds "are already limited, as witnessed by under-financed programs in health, higher and secondary education and public welfare."

Lausche, former Ohio governor, said "Ohio is in direct competition with other states for industrial growth to create jobs. I am in favor of the Ohio Bond Commission procedure to finance the growth of Ohio."

Lausche, who served five two-year terms as the estate's chief executive, reaffirmed his endorsement in Columbus Monday night. He was there to address a dinner commemorating the 100th anniversary of Ohio's first statutes regulating the insurance business.

Lausche explained his support for the bond commission proposed by Republican Gov. James A. Rhodes by noting that "virtually every state is pursuing a program substantially similar and we should not sit back without taking action."

The state's senior senator said he "would not support a program of this type on a national scale.

"It would be disastrous," he said.

Hancock Sets Trials Of 8 In Indictments

3 East Liverpool Residents Included In Court's Action

NEW CUMBERLAND — Trial dates for eight indicted by the Grand Jury, including three from East Liverpool, were set in Hancock County Circuit Court Monday.

Trial dates for 23 appeals on the court docket also were set by the judge.

Leonard Alpert will represent Otto and James Jenkins, both of East Liverpool, who were indicted on two counts each, charging them with felonious assault upon William Greenleaf of Salem and stealing $57 from Richard Gamble Dec. 23, 1966. They will enter pleas April 21.

Thomas Durbin, 18, also of East Liverpool, entered a plea of not guilty to a forgery charge involving a check cashed by W. T. Burkle of Waterford Park in the amount of $25 on July 5. His trial date was set for May 8. He will be represented by Arthur Recht of Weirton.

70% Of Social Security Benefits

Senate Votes To Lower Retirement Age To 60

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has voted to lower the Social Security retirement age to 60 for eligible workers willing to swap full-scale benefits for five years of leisure. But some senators view the measure as a tactical move in a separate battle.

Passed 55 to 28 Monday was an amendment by Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-W.Va., that would give those who retire at 60 about 70 per cent of the benefits they would get if they kept working until age 65.

The Byrd amendment was tacked onto the administration's bill to restore major business tax incentives.

Pending as the debate on the tax bill resumes today is action on a proposed amendment to boost Social Security benefits $4 billion a year, raising the minimum monthly payment from $44 to $70.

Some senators saw in the continuing flood of amendments to the tax bill echoes of last week's bitter battle over the presidential election campaign financing law.

Opponents of the campaign law pushed through an amendment to the tax bill repealing the financing plan. But Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., author of the election financing measure and floor manager for the tax bill, pledged a fight to overcome the repealer.

Foes of the finance law believe its backers are trying to load the tax bill down with riders in hopes it might be easier to kill all the amendments when the bill goes to a Senate-House conference committee. The House passed the tax bill with little debate but this is the third week of Senate consideration of the measure.

Lightning Hits Plane, All 23 Aboard Killed

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — All 23 persons aboard an Iranian air force transport plane were killed Monday night when the plane was struck by lightning and exploded, the air force said today.

A communique said the dead included eight air force officers and 15 members of air force families.

Scarlet Fever Closes School At Salineville

The Salineville Elementary School was closed today because of an outbreak of scarlet fever.

Supt. Thomas Leek said Dr. Merle Singer, Columbiana County health commissioner, directed the closing after Dr. J. M. Nedelkoff of Salineville called to report scarlet fever was reaching epidemic proportions and absenteeism at the building kept climbing.

None of the other buildings in the Southern Local system was affected.

Thre were 100 pupils absent from classes Monday, out of the 429 enrolled.

The children were told late yesterday afternoon not to report for classes this morning.

Leek said the school will remain closed until next Monday.

Parents have been advised not to permit their children to congregate or attend public meetings.

A normal absenteeism rate was reported at all other schools in the system this morning.

Chester Service Returns After Discussion Of Buses

Intra-state bus service was resumed today in Hancock County following a discussion Monday night between John Campbell, operator of the Tri-State Transit Co., and Chester city officials during a public meeting.

One of Campbell's buses had been cited earlier by West Virginia state police for failing to have an inspection sticker. He was told he could not operate in West Virginia. Service since then had been provided from Chester, Newell and other points to East Liverpool, but no picking up or discharging of passengers within state was permitted.

On the provision that bus service would be immediately restored and some carriers be made ready for inspection, Mayor Burton G. Ward contacted the West Virginia state police barracks at Weirton and obtained a seven-day "grace period" for Campbell to operate.

Tony Ludovici of Ludovici's Pontiac Sales Inc., an inspection state, appeared at the hearing to comment on the condition of buses brought there for inspection.

A damaged tail pipe, bad reflector lights, two-to-three-inch play in the front wheel king pins and protruding metal on the exterior of the bus were listed as the reasons a bus which had been brought over for inspection was rejected.

When asked why other buses were not supplied for inspection, Campbell replied he felt they

Chief Named At Salineville

Sweeney Appointed To Replace Dietzel

SALINEVILLE — Gordon Sweeney of 129 E. Main St., deputy marshal for several years, was appointed police chief Monday night by Mayor Stanley Fitch and confirmed by Council.

Sweeney, 58, has been employed at the Lehman Garage in Lisbon. He will begin his full-time police duties next week.

Sweeney will receive $410 a month and will reside in his own home. Previously officers have been paid $340 and resided in the village-owned apartment at the fire station.

Sweeney succeeds Bard Dietzel, who resigned earlier this month.

The safety committee reviewed applications for the post and submitted recommendations. Fitch made the appointment and Council, in a brief special meeting, approved the appointment unanimously.

School Group To Discuss County Vocational Setup

LISBON — Columbiana County boards of education and school administrators will meet May 11 at McKinley School here to discuss an area vocational high school.

The County Board of Education Monday night voted to lend its support to establishing such a center.

J. L. McBride, superintendent of county schools, recalled that the State Department of Education made a survey of the county in 1964 and noted a need for a vocational training program.

He said the recommendation was not acted on because the community college proposal came at the same time. "It is time now that something be done about it," he added.

He said he mentioned the vocational center idea last Friday to the chief school administrators' meeting at the Wick Hotel and the superintendents "were of the opinion we should get together on it."

The meeting will be for all boards — city, village and local districts.

The county board last night appointed Don Elliott of Rogers chairman of its budget committee to present a recommendation at the next meeting May 15.

Don Rupert of New Waterford is the other board member on the committee, which includes Hubert Lawrence; county school system psychologist; Pete Marra, high school consultant, and Mrs. June Ing-

Thomas Durbin, 18, also of East Liverpool, entered a plea of not guilty to a forgery charge involving a check cashed by W. T. Burkle of Waterford Park in the amount of $25 on July 5. His trial date was set for May 8. He will be represented by Arthur Recht of Weirton.

Chester Service Returns After Discussion Of Buses

Intra-state bus service was resumed today in Hancock County following a discussion Monday night between John Campbell, operator of the Tri-State Transit Co., and Chester city officials during a public meeting.

One of Campbell's buses had been cited earlier by West Virginia state police for failing to have an inspection sticker. He was told he could not operate in West Virginia. Service since then had been provided from Chester, Newell and other points to East Liverpool, but no picking up or discharging of passengers within state was permitted.

On the provision that bus service would be immediately restored and some carriers be made ready for inspection, Mayor Burton G. Ward contacted the West Virginia state police barracks at Weirton and obtained a seven-day "grace period" for Campbell to operate.

Tony Ludovici of Ludovici's Pontiac Sales Inc., an inspection state, appeared at the hearing to comment on the condition of buses brought there for inspection.

A damaged tail pipe, bad reflector lights, two-to-three-inch play in the front wheel king pins and protruding metal on the exterior of the bus were listed as the reasons a bus which had been brought over for inspection was rejected.

When asked why other buses were not supplied for inspection, Campbell replied he felt they

Chief Named At Salineville

Sweeney Appointed To Replace Dietzel

SALINEVILLE — Gordon Sweeney of 129 E. Main St., deputy marshal for several years, was appointed police chief Monday night by Mayor Stanley Fitch and confirmed by Council.

Sweeney, 58, has been employed at the Lehman Garage in Lisbon. He will begin his full-time police duties next week.

Sweeney will receive $410 a month and will reside in his own home. Previously officers have been paid $340 and resided in the village-owned apartment at the fire station.

Sweeney succeeds Bard Dietzel, who resigned earlier this month.

The safety committee reviewed applications for the post and submitted recommendations. Fitch made the appointment and Council, in a brief special meeting, approved the appointment unanimously.

At Meeting On May 11

School Group To Discuss County Vocational Setup

LISBON — Columbiana County boards of education and school administrators will meet May 11 at McKinley School here to discuss an area vocational high school.

The County Board of Education Monday night voted to lend its support to establishing such a center.

J. L. McBride, superintendent of county schools, recalled that the State Department of Education made a survey of the county in 1964 and noted a need for a vocational training program.

He said the recommendation was not acted on because the community college proposal came at the same time. "It is time now that something be done about it," he added.

He said he mentioned the vocational center idea last Friday to the chief school administrators' meeting at the Wick Hotel and the superintendents "were of the opinion we should get together on it."

The meeting will be for all boards — city, village and local districts.

The county board last night appointed Don Elliott of Rogers chairman of its budget committee to present a recommendation at the next meeting May 15.

Don Rupert of New Waterford is the other board member on the committee, which includes Hubert Lawrence; county school system psychologist; Pete Marra, high school consultant, and Mrs. June Ing-

Jail Sentence Given Man As Drunk Driver

A 48-year-old East Liverpool man convicted of drunken driving for the second time in four years was given a 15-day jail term and fined $250 and costs today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Norman R. McCoy of 403 E. 3rd St. also was given a four-month suspension of his operator's permit. Cited after a collision on Harvey Ave. April 5 that damaged his car and two others, McCoy entered a "no contest" plea through his counsel, William S. Foulks.

Patrolman Karl W. Samples, who arrested McCoy, said the defendant drove on the wrong side of the center line, colliding with a halted car and driving it into another. All three cars were damaged heavily and four persons were hurt, he said.

The officer said he sent McCoy to City Hospital for treatment of injuries, but the defendant walked out of the emergency room. He later was taken into custody, Samples testified.

Foulks told the court his client may have "blacked out," as he has no recollection of the crash. Queried by the court, McCoy admitted drinking three glasses of beer earlier in the day. The crash was timed at 5:30 p.mm.

McCoy has been in jail since the day of the crash, unable to post an appearance bond. The court said he will be given credit on the sentence for the time spent awaiting trial, which means he will be due for release in 48 hours or less.

Meanwhile, Ralph P. Eck, 53, of 1036 Monaca St. was convicted on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident after a lengthy hearing before Chertoff. Eck pleaded not guilty.

He was cited by Patrolman David Huffman after a collision on Mulberry St. Friday at 4:39 p. m. that damaged a parked 1967 model auto owned by Slonda Gregory of 527 Mulberry St. Huffman said he traced Eck through a license number furnished by two witnesses.

Testifying in his own defense, Eck said the damage police found on his car occured six months ago, but had not been repaired. He admitted his car struck the parked auto, but he said he did not realize any damage resulted.

The court continued the case until April 25 for sentencing. Eck agreed to pay damage of about $25 to the Gregory car.

Denver D. Teeters of Lisbon R.D. 1 was fined $10 and costs Monday afternoon on a charge of failure to stop in the assured clear distance. He was cited April 7 at 1:48 p. m. on Mulberry St. by Patrolman Jerry F. Adkins.

Man To Face Charge After Chester Fracas

Dwight Arnold Stevens Jr. of Waterford Park has been charged with disturbing the peace after a reported fracas in the Holiday Lounge in Chester Saturday night.

A warrant signed by Loretta Eller of Chester, a waitress at the tavern, charged Stevens used profane language and broke a window. A bond of $30.50 was posted.

Earlier Saturday, Mrs. Eller and John Grimes, also of Chester, the club's owner, both were fined $25 and costs for liquor violations.

They were cited early Saturday on "sight" violations by Chester Police Chief Audley Campbell who raided the club along with Hancock County deputy sheriffs.

9 Licensed In W. Va. To Sell Liquor

CHARLESTON (AP) — Nine private clubs today became the first establishments licensed to sell liquor by the drink in West Virginia in more than a half century.

The establishments received the first licenses issued by Alcohol Beverage Control Commissioner Clarence C. Elmore, under the 1967 legislative act permitting licensing of private clubs to sell liquor over the bar.

Elmore and Deputy Commissioner William L. Osborne Jr., who is superivising implementation of the new law, took part in the signing ceremony in Elmore's office this morning.

The first license signed by Elmore went to the Moose Club in Martinsburg. It received a Class A license, the category for nationally affiliated, nonprofit fraternal organizations.

Among others to receive licenses was the Esquire Supper Club, Inc., in Wheeling.

Kenneth Reese of Pittsburgh, construction worker, received abrasions of the finger when it was caught between a cast iron step and a bucket of cement at work.

Advance Billing Plan Scheduled In CATV System

An "advance billing" system similar to the one employed by the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. will be placed in operation May 1 by CATV of the Ohio Valley, Inc., John Hales, manager, advised Council in a caucus session Monday night.

The change will mean that customers will get two bills through the mail in early May —one for the April service already furnished and one for the future service in May, Hales explained. But after that date only one bill will be sent, covering service for the following month, he said.

Hales said he explained the procedural change to the councilmen in case they received any questions from their constituents.

Councilman Floyd Murray questioned Hales about the 25-cent "late charge" on a monthly bill, which makes the amount payable $4.75 instead of $4.50. Hales replied it is not a "late charge," but actually a discount for prompt payment. The CATV concern legally could charge the customers $4.75 monthly, but reduces the bill to $4.50 for a prompt payment, he said.

Murray also questioned Hales about the "blackout" on Channel 2 programs on the system. Hales replied that the action is required by an order of the Federal Communications Commission, which regulates CATV systems. "There is nothing we can do about it," he said. "If we could change it, we would do it in a minute, but our hands are tied."

Racial Friction Ignites Fighting

MASSILLON, Ohio (AP) — Apparent friction between Negro and white students at Washington High School triggered gang fighting that spilled into the downtown area and the school parking lot Monday night. Police and Stark County deputies broke it up.

Six teen-agers were arrested, three Negroes and three whites. The Highway Patrol said an estimated 500 students were roaming the area during the fighting, which lasted about four hours.

At least one student was injured

An auto owned by I. W. Snyder, school principal, was overturned in the school lot and a rock thrown through a window of the car of Robert Seaman, football coach and athletic director.

Dale Braber, 65, a physics teacher, suffered head cuts when he tried to break up a fight between a Negro and a white student at the school Monday morning. Graber said friction between both sides seemed to be under way for several days but he did not know why.

There were reports of windows smashed downtown but no looting.

Snyder's car was overturned during a city board of education meeting at the high school. Both he and Seaman were inside the building.

Police blocked off the area around City Hall and the police station to prevent groups from marching on the building.

Sewage System Plans Advanced

LISBON — Columbiana County commissioners have received state approval of detail plans for the proposed sanitary sewage system and sewage treatment plant for the Calcutta area of County Sewer District 2.

Other communities in the Calcutta area plan system are Gaston Place, LaCroft and Glenmoor. Detail plans for them will be forward to the state for approval at intervals.

Approval is necessary before the county can apply to a federal office in Chicago for a federal grant for construction.

THE APPROVAL was given by the State Department of Health subject to certain conditions:

1. — That the county shall pass and enforce regulations satisfactory to the director of health. These shall contain the following provisions: prohibit the establishment or maintenance of privies, cesspools and private sewage disposal facilities on premises accessible to the public sanitary sewers and requiring connections for such premises; prohibit the discharge into sanitary sewers of roof water, surface or subsoil drainage and other clean waste water; prohibit the discharge of sewage into storm drains, and provide for the issuance of permits for sewer connections and for inspection and recording thereof.

2. — That the county shall provide for proper maintenance of the entire sewage system;

3. — That the county shall provide for technical supervision of the operation of the treatment plant and that daily records of operation be maintained and submitted to the State Department of Health at monthly intervals; and

4. — That additional sewage treatment facilities shall be installed when deemed necessary by the director of health.

COMMISSIONERS received a letter from the East Liverpool area Chamber of Commerce favoring a uniform countywide house numbering plan for the unincorporated areas of the county. The Chamber's letter said, "With so many people living in the suburbs and rural areas, a numbering plan would be valuable for police and fire protection. This system also would be helpful to the utility companies, business firms making deliveries and appliance servicemen."

On recommendation of County Engineer John Ursu, the commissioners accepted a $6,445 bid from Roy Brammer of Our Co. at Salineville for a farm tractor equipped with posthole digger and mower. Another bid was lower, commissioners said, but the mower did not meet the engineer's specifications.

The Dayton Blank Book Co. was awarded a contract for four Probate Court binders and two will binders on a low bid of $26.50 each.

Carl Mfg. Co. of Lisbon received a contract to furnish two office type desks and two desk chairs, a conference table, four conference chairs and four waiting room chairs for an office of the prosecuting attorney. The office will be on the third floor of the Courthouse and will be used by James R. Gause, special investigator. Carl's bid of $522 was the lowest of four.

Health Board Picks Member; Status Of 2 More Questioned

LISBON — The Columbiana County Board of Health filled a vacancy by appointment Monday night, but may have to fill two more.

Someone challenged the role of a physician member and the board is undecided on what action to take regarding a member previously held to be seated illegally.

Mrs. Roy Archibald of Homeworth R. D. 1 was appointed to succeed Francis Bezdek of Lisbon R. D. 5, Elkrun Township, who resigned in March immediately after being seated.

Mrs. Archibald was a board member from 1958 through 1960. A registered nurse, she formerly worked for the County Health Department and has been active in the County Health and Safety Council.

Dr. M. K. Singer, county health commissioner and Health Board secretary, this morning asked Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis for an opinion after a county resident last night challenged Dr. Paul M. Beaver's place on the board.

Olin Evans, chairman of Elkrun Township trustees, called the board's attention to an Ohio attorney general's opinion given in 1951 that a member of a local Board of Education may not at the same time serve on the county Board of Health.

Dr. Beaver, appointed to the board in May 1965, has been on the Leetonia School Board 20 years.

Besides asking the prosecutor to rule on Dr. Beaver's status, Dr. Singer also asked if the Board of Health can appoint member Frank Murray of Lisbon R. D. 4 to serve until the Health Advisory Council meets next March to fill vacancies on the board.

At the March meeting, Bettis told the board Murray was not a legal member since he was seated at the same time another Center Township resident was on the board.

Bettis reminded the board he had given it an opinion this was not legal. Murray was seated in March 1966 for a five-year term while Howard Cole, Lisbon attorney and Center Township resident, was a member. Cole's term expired this year.

NEW CUMBERLAND — A 59 - year - old New Cumberland man has posted $85 bond before Squire John D. Herron for himself and a 15-year-old youth he let drive his car.

William A. Clark was charged with permitting an unlicensed driver to operate his car after they were arrested by sheriff's deputies Monday. The boy was charged with operating a vehicle without a license. Their hearing is slated for Wednesday.

Also fined yesterday were Delmas E. Postlethwait, 18, of New Cumberland, $10 and costs for defective exhaust; Donald M. McMichael, 24, Clinton, Pa., $15 and costs, speeding; Judith M. Holewinski, 25, Homestead, Pa., $10 and costs for speeding. All were arrested by state police.

Charged with having no inspection sticker was Gary Wilson, 17, of New Cumberland, who was fined $10 and costs after being arrested by New Cumberland Police Chief Jake Baxter.

Railroad Cars Derail In New Brighton Area

NEW BRIGHTON — Normal traffic resumed on the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. tracks here Monday about 6 p. m. after a 3½-hour blockage due to four derailed cars.

The cars derailed at the 10th St. Bridge here about 1:45 on a freight headed from Conway to Ashtabula Harbor. No one was injured, but tracks were damaged, a spokesman said.

Buses

would have failed also. The firm has four vehicles registered for West Virginia use.

Campbell explained that his buses are 20 years old and repairs to them would be prohibitive because of the small amount of revenue realized in Chester.

School children are transported for 5 cents in Chester and Newell, while transportation for adults from one end of the city to the other costs 10 cents.

Two buses serve the area on a half-hour schedule from 5:30 a.m. until 10 a.m., at which time they shift to one-hour service until 2 p.m. Then service returns to a half-hour basis until 6 p.m., when it reverts to a bus every hour until the final run at 11.

The question of Campbell purchasing school buses was discussed. Campbell said the buses mentioned probably would represent an inconvenience to most patrons because of their low headroom and uncomfortable seating. Such buses also have a shorter lifetime, Councilman Roy Cashdollar added.

Councilman Eugene Seeley asked Campbell if raising rates might improve his situation financially. The operator agreed they would, but said he would rather not present a hardship on school children and pensioners who ride his carriers.

Campbell agreed to transfer an Ohio bus to West Virginia registration if it passes inspection.

Some 30 attended the meeting, including representatives of the Newell Junior Women's Club.

Midland Sets Bid Openings

Opening of bids on the $342,000 water expansion project for Midland was set for May 1 at 8 p. m. when the Midland Municipal Authority met Monday night.

The four - part project calls for a 1½ - million - gallon reservoir located adjacent to the present 8th St. reservoir; a 150,000 - gallon reservoir at Midland Heights to supply the Heights and Ohioville area; a 12-inch line to reinforce the fire hydrant system for the 4th St. area for the borough and Crucible Steel Co., and enlargement on the capacity of the booster station at 3rd St. and Penn Ave.

The 12-inch lines will extend from 8th St. at Virginia Ave. to 4th St. and Railroad Ave., linking with existing lines.

Don Craik of the Water Authority reported on preparation for the program and said Atty. Frank Suffoletta is preparing necessary papers on easements, rights-of-way and bank agreement. He said these will be ready in advance of May 1.

The board signed an engineering supplemental agreement between Michael Baker Jr., Inc., of Rochester and the authority, granting the engineers permission to prepare "as-built" drawings if required.

Bills approved for payment included $27,097 for water; $3,835 for sewage and $371 for parking.

The next regular meeting will be May 15 at 8 p. m.

Terms Given To 3 In Theft

Two young women and a man were sentenced to County Jail terms today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff after they pleaded guilty to reduced charges of assault and battery in connection with the alledged $109 strongarm robberty of an elderly man April 4 in Green Ln.

The judge decreed six-month sentences for each: Jo Ann Ludington, 19, of Middle Run Rd., Chester; Nancy Sue Green, 18, of 625 St. Clair Ave., and Robert (Buddy) Shroades, 20, of Glenmoor.

He suspended five months of each sentence for the two girls and four months of Shroades' sentence. Each was ordered to pay the court costs.

The three were charged initially with unarmed robbery. However, the charges were reduced to assault shortly before scheduled hearings this morning.

They had been taken into custody after Harold Frazier of 1185 Lisbon St. reported he was assaulted and robbed of his wallet as he walked in the alley with two young women and a man whom he had met earlier in a tavern.

Shroades was represented by William S. Foulks and Miss Ludington was represented by George A. Aronson. Donald E. Smith was counsel for Miss Green. The affidavits were signed by Lt. Robert B. Pyle, who directed the investigation of the theft.

Arraignment Due In Knifing Case

Arraignment is scheduled today for Fred Higgins, 55, of Erwin, Tenn., free on $2,000 bond, who was charged with assault with a dangerous weapon following a fight Saturday night in Wellsville in which a friend was stabbed.

In "fair" condition today at City Hospital is Frank Williams, also of Erwin, who suffered wounds of the upper abdomen.

According to Wellsville Police Chief John Hephner, the two men were at the home of James Anders of 230 25th St. when the assault was made with an penknife.

Judge John MacDonald of Southwest County Court at Lisbon will conduct the arraignment.

An estimated $500 million would be required to provide the additional municipal sewage treatment facilities now needed in Ohio.

Sewage System Plans Advanced

LISBON — Columbiana County commissioners have received state approval of detail plans for the proposed sanitary sewage system and sewage treatment plant for the Calcutta area of County Sewer District 2.

Other communities in the Calcutta area plan system are Gaston Place, LaCroft and Glenmoor. Detail plans for them will be forward to the state for approval at intervals.

Approval is necessary before the county can apply to a federal office in Chicago for a federal grant for construction.

THE APPROVAL was given by the State Department of Health subject to certain conditions:

1. — That the county shall pass and enforce regulations satisfactory to the director of health. These shall contain the following provisions: prohibit the establishment or maintenance of privies, cesspools and private sewage disposal facilities on premises accessible to the public sanitary sewers and requiring connections for such premises; prohibit the discharge into sanitary sewers of roof water, surface or subsoil drainage and other clean waste water; prohibit the discharge of sewage into storm drains, and provide for the issuance of permits for sewer connections and for inspection and recording thereof.

2. — That the county shall provide for proper maintenance of the entire sewage system;

3. — That the county shall provide for technical supervision of the operation of the treatment plant and that daily records of operation be maintained and submitted to the State Department of Health at monthly intervals; and

4. — That additional sewage treatment facilities shall be installed when deemed necessary by the director of health.

COMMISSIONERS received a letter from the East Liverpool area Chamber of Commerce favoring a uniform countywide house numbering plan for the unincorporated areas of the county. The Chamber's letter said, "With so many people living in the suburbs and rural areas, a numbering plan would be valuable for police and fire protection. This system also would be helpful to the utility companies, business firms making deliveries and appliance servicemen."

On recommendation of County Engineer John Ursu, the commissioners accepted a $6,445 bid from Roy Brammer of Our Co. at Salineville for a farm tractor equipped with posthole digger and mower. Another bid was lower, commissioners said, but the mower did not meet the engineer's specifications.

The Dayton Blank Book Co. was awarded a contract for four Probate Court binders and two will binders on a low bid of $26.50 each.

Carl Mfg. Co. of Lisbon received a contract to furnish two office type desks and two desk chairs, a conference table, four conference chairs and four waiting room chairs for an office of the prosecuting attorney. The office will be on the third floor of the Courthouse and will be used by James R. Gause, special investigator. Carl's bid of $522 was the lowest of four.

Health Board Picks Member; Status Of 2 More Questioned

LISBON — The Columbiana County Board of Health filled a vacancy by appointment Monday night, but may have to fill two more.

Someone challenged the role of a physician member and the board is undecided on what action to take regarding a member previously held to be seated illegally.

Mrs. Roy Archibald of Homeworth R. D. 1 was appointed to succeed Francis Bezdek of Lisbon R. D. 5, Elkrun Township, who resigned in March immediately after being seated.

Mrs. Archibald was a board member from 1958 through 1960. A registered nurse, she formerly worked for the County Health Department and has been active in the County Health and Safety Council.

Dr. M. K. Singer, county health commissioner and Health Board secretary, this morning asked Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis for an opinion after a county resident last night challenged Dr. Paul M. Beaver's place on the board.

Olin Evans, chairman of Elkrun Township trustees, called the board's attention to an Ohio attorney general's opinion given in 1951 that a member of a local Board of Education may not at the same time serve on the county Board of Health.

Dr. Beaver, appointed to the board in May 1965, has been on the Leetonia School Board 20 years.

Besides asking the prosecutor to rule on Dr. Beaver's status, Dr. Singer also asked if the Board of Health can appoint member Frank Murray of Lisbon R. D. 4 to serve until the Health Advisory Council meets next March to fill vacancies on the board.

At the March meeting, Bettis told the board Murray was not a legal member since he was seated at the same time another Center Township resident was on the board.

Bettis reminded the board he had given it an opinion this was not legal. Murray was seated in March 1966 for a five-year term while Howard Cole, Lisbon attorney and Center Township resident, was a member. Cole's term expired this year.

OBC Not A Blank Check

So much confusion, real and fancied, has arisen over the proposed Ohio Bond Commission on which the state's voters will pass judgment May 2 that clarification is essential in the interests of fairness and accuracy.

The most common error or misunderstanding that crops up in speeches and letters to the editor opposing OBC is that the Ohio Bond Commission, or Gov. Rhodes, or the General Assembly, or all three, would have unlimited authority to create indebtedness without a vote of the people.

The fact is, four vital safeguards are built into the proposed constitutional amendment that provide clearly defined limitations as well as checks and balances on the five-member commission, the legislature and even the governor.

In the first place, only those projects approved by the commission for bond financing would be considered by the General Assembly. It is true that the governor would have appointive power and doubtless would be influential in establishing priorities, but he would have no absolute authority over the commissioners.

The next limitation is the amount of debt that could be created each year. Under provisions of the amendment, bonds could be issued only in the amount that could be financed, in principal and interest, by three-fourths of one per cent of the general fund for the year in question. For example, the 1966-67 general fund would accommodate the issuance of approximately $120 million in bonds.

A further limitation and a very vital one would restrict to 6 per cent the total amount of money that could be extracted from the general fund to meet bond financing obligations. It would take eight years of financing OBC projects to reach that limitation.

But the prime safeguard in the amendment is that not a dime of state money could be obligated under OBC until it had the approval of the appropriation authority of the state legislature.

The Ohio Bonding Commission could submit approved projects up to the limit of financing authority, but nothing would ever come of them unless the Ohio Assembly gave its approval by way of appropriations.

The proposed program gives a free spending hand to no one. It simply makes possible, under rigid controls, the financing of needed capital improvements without asking voters to amend the state constitution each time.

It is a plan that charts a course of intelligent progress vital to the growth and development of the state.

Troop Reduction Touchy Issue

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee and a member of a special group that is to launch an inquiry into the situation, has called for a 50 per cent cutback.

The committee, made up of members from Foreign Relations and Armed Services committees, will open its inquiry April 26.

The demand for reduction in the six divisions has been growing as likelihood of an invasion of Western Europe has been diminishing.

Sen. Mike Mansfield has been spearheading the reduction drive and is author of a resolution asking substantial reductions.

Sen. Mansfield is chairman of the special group. With the help of Sen. Fulbright's strong argument, there is likely to emerge from the hearings a firm recommendation for a sizable troop reduction.

Factors other than the lessening war threat have a bearing on the controversy.

There is a rising reluctance on the part of some European nations to meet agreements on methods to offset troop maintenance cost.

European troop reduction would help offset rising defense costs brought on by the Vietnam war.

The special committee will have no trouble finding adequate arguments for a reduction recommendation.

The rub comes in trying to explain to European leaders that the United States is not abandoning them in favor of a new frontier in Asia.

Vietnam Will Have A Wall

If a barrier actually materializes between South Vietnam and North Vietnam, to keep troops from North Vietnam from filtering into South Vietnam, an ancient fallacy will have been memorialized one more time.

The fallacy is the impregnability of a barrier. All ancient cities were walled and all succumbed, Jericho among them.

All ancient countries were walled, and all suffered invasion, the Great Wall of China notwithstanding.

A continuous barrier in Vietnam would resemble most closely the wall built by Roman emperor Hadrian in Britain in the second century of the Christian era. Like the proposed Vietnamese barrier, Hardrian's wall was intended to keep out invaders from the North.

But like all walls, it was surmountable. It was surmountable in the same way the greatest of all walls, France's Maginot Line, was surmountable in World War II.

All a determined enemy needs to do is breach a barrier in one place and all security vanishes. Or go around the end of it. Or, as is done in modern times, go over the top of it. Or, as was commonplace in World War I and is still routine practice in Vietnam, burrow under it.

South Vietnam will build a barrier, with U.S. materials, naturally. Infiltration from the North will continue, nevertheless, just as escapees from East Germany are still going over, under, around and through the Berlin Wall.

But it will be harder than walking across open country. And because the barrier will be visible it will add more aggravation to the Vietnamese who are on one side or the other and want to get across it to the other side. It will make the war that much harder to bear. It will be blamed for everything a war-weary people don't like about a military occupation by outsiders that has been the foremost element in their lives for generations.

Poll Tax In Blood

Each year at primary and general election time, there is finger-wagging, loud lamenting and sermons on apathy, directed toward potential voters.

This foolish practice of chiding voters has become a self-perpetuating habit. It is followed with limited success.

Those who abdicate their responsibility must feel a little ashamed when reading of atrocities thrust upon South Vietnamese caught up in the democratic process.

Many South Vietnamese do not understand what it is all about. Some blindly follow respected village leaders; but somehow they get the message that voting is important.

Both candidates and villagers are being killed and kidnaped by Viet Cong. Villages are being set afire and raked with mortar fire. Women and children are not excluded from terrorism.

In villages voting so far, there has been an 80 per cent turnout.

One can despise the war as a foolish blunder, or view it as vital fuel for the torch of freedom; but none can deny the courage of the little Vietnamese villager as he plods along the dusty road of the past to cast his ballot for the 20th century.

It is quite possible he is more knowledgeable about what he can expect than those who have guided his destiny.

He knows blood has been let to bring democracy; blood has been let to have him participate in democracy, and he must feel certain blood will continue to be spilled to preserve that which has been gained.

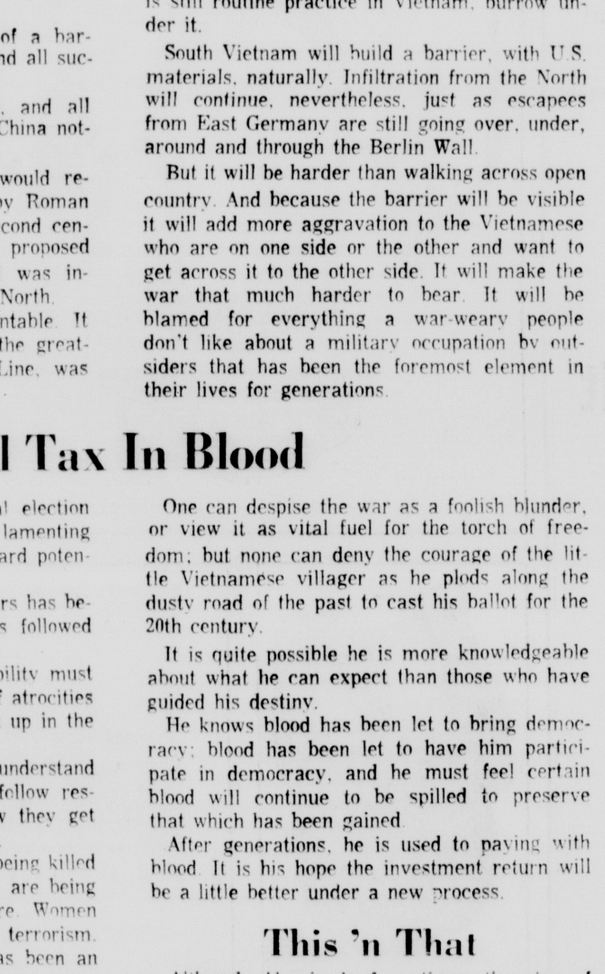

After generations, he is used to paying with blood. It is his hope the investment return will be a little better under a new process.

Our Greatest Holiday

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON

One of the things I find myself doing all the time is explaining our American holidays to friends from abroad. The other day a French friend visiting Washington asked me, "Why does everyone in the United States keep talking about April 15?"

Art Buchwald

"That," I replied, "is known as Income Tax Day, although this year, because it fell on a weekend, we celebrated it on the 17th."

"Is it a religious holiday?" the Frenchman asked.

"Not exactly, though people pray a lot on it, and there is a good deal of wailing, breast-beating and shredding of clothes."

"How did it start?" the Frenchman wanted to know.

"No one is exactly sure. It's been with us as long as people can remember. While there are many Americans who would like to give it up, it's become so much a part of our lives that no one dares break with tradition."

"BUT WHAT do you do on Income Tax Day?"

"You celebrate it by giving all the money you earned during the last year as a gift to the U.S. government."

"Then it's a happy day for the government?"

"Yes, it's a happy day for them, but there are no fireworks displays or anything like that. So many people have lost so much that the government feels it would be in bad taste to set off rockets.

"Do you have any special foods that you eat on that day, such as you do on Thanksgiving?"

"What are some of the other traditions associated with the day?"

"Well, in many houses it's a time when the family gets together and the father gathers his wife and children around him and tells them they are spending too much money. The father says the wife is responsible for trying to live beyond their means, and the wife tells the father that he ought to try running the house on what he gives her. And then the kids start crying, and everyone becomes pretty emotional about the whole thing. It's a moving sight to see."

"Do the department stores have sales, as they do on Lincoln and Washington's birthday?"

"No, because no one has any money left for gas, much less to go to a sale."

"SUPPOSE YOU don't believe in Income Tax Day and refuse to celebrate it. What happens then?"

"Nothing much. You can ignore it completely if you want to and go to jail instead."

"Are there many political speeches made on the holiday?"

"Not many. Politicians have always felt April 15 was a family holiday, that the less they were seen that day the happier the families would be."

"Do you have anything like a Santa Claus?"

"Not really. There is a legend that at the stroke of midnight an Internal Revenue Service man comes down your chimney and plants a bug in your library. But only the children believe it."

"Does the Internal Revenue man ever leave any presents for the family?" the Frenchman asked.

"No, but sometimes he attaches your furniture."

"It sounds like a truly wonderful holiday, and I'm only sorry we don't have anything like it in France."

"That's because you French people don't really know how to have fun.

WASHINGTON

It sounded like a call to a new life, to a fresh beginning, and the very manner of the man gave the feeling.

In the White House and the Latin-American diplomats stood listening as the young president proposed that their republics join the United States in a 10-year, 10-point program.

Its goal, he said, would be "to build a hemisphere where all men can hope for the same high standard of living — and all can live out their lives in dignity and freedom."

He suggested that the various American nations could transform the continent and make it "an example to all the world that liberty and progress walk hand in hand."

That was in MMarch 1961, and President John F. Kennedy stirred the Latin Americans as they hadn't been in years. From that moment he became a shining figure to this country's southern neighbors.

Even the disastrous American-backed rebel invasion of Cuba just a month later didn't spoil the Kennedy image in Latin America, for later in the year the Alliance for Progress was created at Punta del Este in Uruguay.

NOW IT'S almost six years later. Has there been progress under the alliance? Those who are delighted at any sign of forward movement in Latin America will say yes. Others, more pragmatic, think the alliance has just been stumbling along.

Last week another president, a different kind of man, with a different manner, Lyndon B. Johnson, went to another meeting at Punta del Este, this time for a meeting with 19 Latin-American presidents to get more action for the future and in more ways.

He operated in low key, standing in the background pretty much, avoiding any flamboyance or suggestion of dominating the conference because he represented the Western Hemisphere's dominant force, the United States.

At the opening session he yielded his own speaking time to the others and did what was more natural for him since he had been doing that kind of thing most of his life: he talked privately with the individual presidents.

His ability as a speaker had never equaled his ability as a negotiator.

And when he did speak to the assembled group he left out the big flourishes, avoided flat promises of help, said in effect he would do his best to get Congress to move to aid the Latin Americans in various ways.

The next 10 years, he suggested, should be called the "decade of urgency." And he told his fellow presidents the dream of the alliance and of progress can come to pass only if "your hearts and minds become committed to it."

In short, Johnson did not try to compete with the image or memory of Kennedy. He was tougher, under the pleasant words. He acted as a friend but a rather stern one behind the smile.

He managed to get across the message there will be less babying of Latin Americans and the help they get from this country will depend pretty much on their own willingness to pitch in and do for themselves.

THERE WAS more than just his own thinking in what he said. He was reflecting a hardening of the American attitude toward aid abroad, perhaps because of weariness from years of aiding, perhaps because there is less sense of urgency and emergency than there used to be.

But Johnson's whole performance seemed to go beyond just the need of the moment and the circumstances. What he did, and how he did it, seemed to be part of a decision in and about himself.

It is one more example of the change which apparently began late last year. For example: Just try to remember how many times you have seen Johnson on television since the first of the year.

Instead of the rather bubbling President of earlier years, an impression that hurt him with the American public, Johnson has swung around to a deliberately subdued style with fewer appearances, fewer words.

He has been consistent in this for months and probably will remain that way for the rest of his presidency.

A Blow To Civil Rights

Now that the tragic results of the Harlem election are known, the cause of civil rights has received a stunning blow.

The American people have listened for several years to the cries that discrimination has been practiced against Negroes. When three Negroes ran for public office, one of them under serious charges by the House of Representatives, voters in Harlem apparently decided that no matter what Adam Clayton Powell had done he must be returned to the House of Representatives. They were convinced he had been discriminated against because he is a Negro.

But how many voters actually had read the report of the committee of the House of Representatives which told of Powell's misdeeds?

How many knew of the Harlem congressman's various statements scorning members of the House and of his refusal for several months to come back to his district to get the views of his constituents on the problems of the day?

Many people now are saying that Negroes in Harlem — by the overwhelming majority given Powell — have proved that prejudice supersedes every other consideration.

THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE states the case bluntly:

"The judgment that he (Powell) was unfit to sit made no impression on the voters of his district in New York City. They chose to regard him as a martyr and a hero.

"Powell's disreputable antics, in the eyes of these people, were what made him virtuous. He could get away with the kind of stuff which less favored men wouldn't even try. His behavior would have been discreditable in any man, black or white.

"He is in both civil and criminal contempt of the New York courts for failing to satisfy a judgment for slander. He does not dare to return to his district for fear of arrest. A House investigation committee found that he had diverted more than $56,000 in public money to his own use. He and members of his family and entourage, which numbers a runner-up for the title of Miss Universe, charged the government for plane travel and living expenses on pleasure trips. His wife, though resident in Pierto Rico, was on his Washington payroll, but testified she never saw the salary checks made out to her.

Out of approximately 32,500 persons — virtually all Negroes — who went to the polls, only 4,500 voted against Powell. This was the total vote received by the other two candidates, both Negroes.

THE 15TH AMENDMENT of the Constitution says the right of every citizen to vote shall not be denied or abridged "on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude." - Many states have set certain qualifications for all voters. But the Supreme Court has gradually removed such restrictions, so that even literacy tests are questionable today, though it is contended that they may still be applied provided they are not utilized as a device for discrimination.

The election in Harlem will encourage a movement for closer study of the qualifications of voters. If a survey were taken of citizens of Harlem, it would undoubtedly be found that a relatively small number of those who voted for Adam Clayton Powell had learned or understood the facts about what had happened in the House of Representatives.

It is doubtful whether the text of the important paragraphs in the report of the House investigating committee ever reached the majority of the voters in Harlem.

These are the tragic aspects of the latest election of Adam Clayton Powell. Resentments will arise that will tend to build up new obstacles to the equal rights crusade.

OBC Not A Blank Check

So much confusion, real and fancied, has arisen over the proposed Ohio Bond Commission on which the state's voters will pass judgment May 2 that clarification is essential in the interests of fairness and accuracy.

The most common error or misunderstanding that crops up in speeches and letters to the editor opposing OBC is that the Ohio Bond Commission, or Gov. Rhodes, or the General Assembly, or all three, would have unlimited authority to create indebtedness without a vote of the people.

The fact is, four vital safeguards are built into the proposed constitutional amendment that provide clearly defined limitations as well as checks and balances on the five-member commission, the legislature and even the governor.

In the first place, only those projects approved by the commission for bond financing would be considered by the General Assembly. It is true that the governor would have appointive power and doubtless would be influential in establishing priorities, but he would have no absolute authority over the commissioners.

The next limitation is the amount of debt that could be created each year. Under provisions of the amendment, bonds could be issued only in the amount that could be financed, in principal and interest, by three-fourths of one per cent of the general fund for the year in question. For example, the 1966-67 general fund would accommodate the issuance of approximately $120 million in bonds.

A further limitation and a very vital one would restrict to 6 per cent the total amount of money that could be extracted from the general fund to meet bond financing obligations. It would take eight years of financing OBC projects to reach that limitation.

But the prime safeguard in the amendment is that not a dime of state money could be obligated under OBC until it had the approval of the appropriation authority of the state legislature.

The Ohio Bonding Commission could submit approved projects up to the limit of financing authority, but nothing would ever come of them unless the Ohio Assembly gave its approval by way of appropriations.

The proposed program gives a free spending hand to no one. It simply makes possible, under rigid controls, the financing of needed capital improvements without asking voters to amend the state constitution each time.

It is a plan that charts a course of intelligent progress vital to the growth and development of the state.

Troop Reduction Touchy Issue

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee and a member of a special group that is to launch an inquiry into the situation, has called for a 50 per cent cutback.

The committee, made up of members from Foreign Relations and Armed Services committees, will open its inquiry April 26.

The demand for reduction in the six divisions has been growing as likelihood of an invasion of Western Europe has been diminishing.

Sen. Mike Mansfield has been spearheading the reduction drive and is author of a resolution asking substantial reductions.

Sen. Mansfield is chairman of the special group. With the help of Sen. Fulbright's strong argument, there is likely to emerge from the hearings a firm recommendation for a sizable troop reduction.

Factors other than the lessening war threat have a bearing on the controversy.

There is a rising reluctance on the part of some European nations to meet agreements on methods to offset troop maintenance cost.

European troop reduction would help offset rising defense costs brought on by the Vietnam war.

The special committee will have no trouble finding adequate arguments for a reduction recommendation.

The rub comes in trying to explain to European leaders that the United States is not abandoning them in favor of a new frontier in Asia.

Vietnam Will Have A Wall

If a barrier actually materializes between South Vietnam and North Vietnam, to keep troops from North Vietnam from filtering into South Vietnam, an ancient fallacy will have been memorialized one more time.

The fallacy is the impregnability of a barrier. All ancient cities were walled and all succumbed, Jericho among them.

All ancient countries were walled, and all suffered invasion, the Great Wall of China notwithstanding.

A continuous barrier in Vietnam would resemble most closely the wall built by Roman emperor Hadrian in Britain in the second century of the Christian era. Like the proposed Vietnamese barrier, Hardrian's wall was intended to keep out invaders from the North.

But like all walls, it was surmountable. It was surmountable in the same way the greatest of all walls, France's Maginot Line, was surmountable in World War II.

All a determined enemy needs to do is breach a barrier in one place and all security vanishes. Or go around the end of it. Or, as is done in modern times, go over the top of it. Or, as was commonplace in World War I and is still routine practice in Vietnam, burrow under it.

South Vietnam will build a barrier, with U.S. materials, naturally. Infiltration from the North will continue, nevertheless, just as escapees from East Germany are still going over, under, around and through the Berlin Wall.

But it will be harder than walking across open country. And because the barrier will be visible it will add more aggravation to the Vietnamese who are on one side or the other and want to get across it to the other side. It will make the war that much harder to bear. It will be blamed for everything a war-weary people don't like about a military occupation by outsiders that has been the foremost element in their lives for generations.

Poll Tax In Blood

Each year at primary and general election time, there is finger-wagging, loud lamenting and sermons on apathy, directed toward potential voters.

This foolish practice of chiding voters has become a self-perpetuating habit. It is followed with limited success.

Those who abdicate their responsibility must feel a little ashamed when reading of atrocities thrust upon South Vietnamese caught up in the democratic process.

Many South Vietnamese do not understand what it is all about. Some blindly follow respected village leaders; but somehow they get the message that voting is important.

Both candidates and villagers are being killed and kidnaped by Viet Cong. Villages are being set afire and raked with mortar fire. Women and children are not excluded from terrorism.

In villages voting so far, there has been an 80 per cent turnout.

One can despise the war as a foolish blunder, or view it as vital fuel for the torch of freedom; but none can deny the courage of the little Vietnamese villager as he plods along the dusty road of the past to cast his ballot for the 20th century.

It is quite possible he is more knowledgeable about what he can expect than those who have guided his destiny.

He knows blood has been let to bring democracy; blood has been let to have him participate in democracy, and he must feel certain blood will continue to be spilled to preserve that which has been gained.

After generations, he is used to paying with blood. It is his hope the investment return will be a little better under a new process.

Not Work Of Dictator's Enemies

Haiti Blasts Seen Result Of Rivalry In Regime

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP) — Two explosions which occurred during a celebration of President Francois Duvalier's rule last weekend are believed to have been the result of rivalry within the Haitian dictator's regime and not the work of his enemies.

Three or four persons were reported killed and about 40 wounded by the blasts in Port au Prince Saturday night during festivities celebrating Duvalier's 60th birthday and the 10th anniversary of his taking office.

The first explosion occurred about 5 p.m. in the Champs de Mars Park about 100 yards from the front gate of the white National Palace. Informants said a small bomb was placed in or near the pushcart of a street peddler selling ices.

The blast was reported to have killed a small girl and cut off the peddler's right leg. Most of the crowd didn't notice because a procession of nine foreign beauty queens trailed by a crowd of revelers was passing the palace at the time. But Duvalier saw the explosion from a second-floor window of the palace, donned a helmet and with an armed escort inspected the damage.

The second explosion occurred three hours later near the Port au Prince cemetery about a mile from the palace. It was said to have caused the most casualties. Informants said a charge was thrown under a busload of musicians.

Asked about the second explosion, one government source said a load of fireworks went off by accident but injured no one. But Duvalier made a radio appeal for protection of the celebration, and several thousand armed volunteer militiamen were rushed to Port au Prince Sunday.

Observers believed the incidents were triggered by rivals of Luc Albert Foucard, a son-in-law of Duvalier who was recently appointed minister of tourism. They said Foucard's foes apparently wanted to embarrass him and the Duvalier regime.

Foucard is reported to have made sweeping changes in his departmet and fired several key officials. His rivals were said to include Duvalier's other son-in-law, Lt. Col. Max Dominique, the military commandant of Port au Prince. Some observers predicted a power struggle between the brothers-in-law.

said it welcomed "all efforts to bring about peace in Vietnam and proposes specific courses of action such as the pullback from the demilitarized zone, inspection by the International Control Commission, further de-escalation of the conflict and talks, secret or otherwise."

"The government of the Republic of Vietnam," the communique said, "stands ready at any time to meet with or contact the Hanoi authorities either directly or through the good offices of a third party such as Canada."

The Canadian proposals called for "some disengagement, possibly in the demilitarized zone between North and South Vietnam, together with a cessation of U.S. bombing of North Vietnam and of Communist infiltration of the South, (2) freezing military action in South Vietnam at the present level, (3) cessation of all hostilities, and (4) withdrawal of forces on either side of the 17th Parallel.

The South Vietnamese gave no distance for the pullback they proposed from the six-mile-wide demilitarized zone which straddles the 17th Parallel.

U.S. Marines and South Vietnamese troops continued bulldozing a cleared strip below the eastern part of the zone. The United States has been shifting its forces to provide reinforcements in the northern provinces just below the zone.

In the air war, U.S. planes flew 101 bombing missions over North Vietnam Monday, but spokesmen said poor weather limited the strikes to the coastal regions and the southern panhandle. Pilots claimed destroying or damaging 83 cargo barges, 14 trucks, six bridges and three gun sites.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported two more Viet Cong attacks today against teams of pacification workers, a prime target for enemy attacks in recent weeks.

One attack was against a pacification team near Ban Me Thuot, in the central highlands, and the other against a team near My Tho, in the Mekong Delta.

4 More Songs Suggested As Official One For Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio may never get a song to add to its "official family" which now includes a state bird, tree, flower, motto, flag and drink.

It's not that the legislature isn't trying. Perhaps too many are getting into the would-be Hit Parade.

The lawmakers received four more suggestions for songs Monday night upon return from weekend recesses, bringing to 20 the number of such bills pending.

Another measure marking time in the Senate would create an Ohio Song Commission which would solicit entries at festivals around the state and submit its choice to the 1969 legislature.

All 20 songs in one way or another proclaim Ohio's virtues and some would set Gov. James A. Rhodes' "Wonderful World of Ohio" theme to music. Still another with the not-so-nostalgic title of "Ohio--the Heart of Industry" would seem to underscore the governor's jobs and progress campaign.

Only one of the songs apparently has more than taken support but it might be rejected because it was written about the Ohio River and not the state and the composer was not an Ohioan. Twenty sponsoring House members nevertheless contend the song "Beautiful Ohio" is the best known of all entries and already widely accepted as the Buckeye State's own.

House and Senate leaders have set no date for hearing the various songs and in fact have yet to confirm they will at all. Meanwhile, as one statehouse observer punned, "Ohio is "Without a Song."

Routine floor sessions in both houses opened the 15th legislative week and the lawmakers introduced a total of 13 new bills--all but three of them in the House.

The Senate completed passage of a House bill permitting operators of salvage and towing businesses to use special auto license tags now restricted to insurance companies and Lien holders.

Three bills were passed by the House without significant opposition. Two would permit courts to impose sanctions for failure to answer depositions and to give judicial recognition to common law in other states. The lower chamber passed and sent to the Senate a bill allowing library boards to employ deputy clerks authorized to handle funds.

Besides the four song bills —all introduced by Rep. Lloyd George Kerns R-16 Union—the House received proposals to set up statewide regulation for disposal of solid wastes, tighten control over water pollution programs, and require the Ohio Water Commission to implement a water management plan.

1% Income Tax Set For Oberlin July 1

OBERLIN, Ohio (AP)—A one per cent city income tax becomes effective July 1 in Oberlin under emergency legislation passed by City Council Monday night.

Voters will have the right to petition for a referendum vote in November if petitions with about 290 signatures are filed. The electorate defeated income tax proposals here in 1962 and 1963.

Arrangements were made for open house from 3 to 5 p. m. Wednesday in the board's new quarters at the former post office on the Square.

McBride said he is awaiting a rely from the State Department of Education before hiring a vocational supervisor to coordinate the vocational programs of several area high schools.

McBride said the county commissioners rejected the board's request that the county pay for two new rugs in the superintendent's office and board meeting room.

Fred Lohman of Salineville, county attendance officer, reported he drove 604 miles in March on 19 home calls and 26 school calls.

the Social Security retirement age has cleared the Senate twice before. The House always has rejected it in conference.

Widows are the only category now eligible for age 60 retirement. Other women and men may retire at 62 with reduced payments.

Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., a co-author of the election financing repealer, urged rejection of Byrd's amendment. But Long supported Byrd.

Installation For Toledo Diocese Bishop Set Today

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Clergy and laymen from many parts of the nation and world were drawn here today for the installation of the fifth bishop of the Toledo Diocese of the Roman Catholic Church.

The Most Rev. John Donovan was to be installed as bishop of the 19-county, 280,000-member diocese in ceremonies in Toledo's Rosary Cathedral.

Expected to attend were 33 American Catholic bishops and 450 other clergy from the United States, Rome, Nigeria, Puerto Rico and Canada.

Bishop Donovan, identified with the progressive element in the Roman Catholic Church, has championed human rights, involvement of laity in church affairs and similar concerns.

He was to deliver his first spiritual message to the Toledo area at the Mass closing the three-part installation ceremony.

A procession to the cathedral would be followed by a diocesan notary reading the formal Vatican letters appointing Bishop Donovan. He would then be escorted to the cathedral throne by Bishop Rehring and Archbishop Karl J. Alter of Cincinnati, who preceded Rehring as bishop of Toledo.

Bishop Donovan was born in Chatham, Ont., but moved with his mother to Detroit after his father died. He attended high school and college at Sacred Heart Seminary, Detroit. He studied theology at North American College in Rome and was ordained in 1935.

Bishop Donovan then returned to Detroit as an assistant pastor. In 1937 he was appointed secretary for the late Archbishop Edward Mooney, and two years later became a domestic prelate. In 1951 he became chancellor of the Detroit Archdiocese. He was consecrated as an auxiliary bishop in 1954.

Science Shrinks Piles Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special): Science has found a special formula with the ability, in most cases—to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain without surgery except in unusually severe or persistent cases.

If you'd like homeowner's protection that goes farther than most—that pays your mortgage when you can't...

Come what may, we think a single plan should cover everything.

Most homeowner's insurance protects against fire, wind, and theft – but ignores one of the most frequent ways people lose their homes: foreclosure.

When a family loses its home, it's nearly always because the breadwinner becomes disabled or dies and the family can't keep up the mortgage payments.

That's why Nationwide created a special plan to protect your mortgage as well as your house.

Nationwide's Security Plan for Homeowners actually gives you three policies: life insurance that protects your mortgage if you die; health insurance that protects your mortgage if you're disabled; fire, wind, theft, and liability insurance.

To get such complete protection, you'd normally have to go to more than one agent. The man from Nationwide offers a plan that gives you three policies in one plan from one man—even lets you pay in one check.

Not Work Of Dictator's Enemies

Haiti Blasts Seen Result Of Rivalry In Regime

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP) — Two explosions which occurred during a celebration of President Francois Duvalier's rule last weekend are believed to have been the result of rivalry within the Haitian dictator's regime and not the work of his enemies.

Three or four persons were reported killed and about 40 wounded by the blasts in Port au Prince Saturday night during festivities celebrating Duvalier's 60th birthday and the 10th anniversary of his taking office.

The first explosion occurred about 5 p.m. in the Champs de Mars Park about 100 yards from the front gate of the white National Palace. Informants said a small bomb was placed in or near the pushcart of a street peddler selling ices.

The blast was reported to have killed a small girl and cut off the peddler's right leg. Most of the crowd didn't notice because a procession of nine foreign beauty queens trailed by a crowd of revelers was passing the palace at the time. But Duvalier saw the explosion from a second-floor window of the palace, donned a helmet and with an armed escort inspected the damage.

The second explosion occurred three hours later near the Port au Prince cemetery about a mile from the palace. It was said to have caused the most casualties. Informants said a charge was thrown under a busload of musicians.

Asked about the second explosion, one government source said a load of fireworks went off by accident but injured no one. But Duvalier made a radio appeal for protection of the celebration, and several thousand armed volunteer militiamen were rushed to Port au Prince Sunday.

Observers believed the incidents were triggered by rivals of Luc Albert Foucard, a son-in-law of Duvalier who was recently appointed minister of tourism. They said Foucard's foes apparently wanted to embarrass him and the Duvalier regime.

Foucard is reported to have made sweeping changes in his departmet and fired several key officials. His rivals were said to include Duvalier's other son-in-law, Lt. Col. Max Dominique, the military commandant of Port au Prince. Some observers predicted a power struggle between the brothers-in-law.

Open Housing March Staged In Louisville

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Asserting the justness of civil disobedience, about 125 proponents of open housing marched for 2½ hours through Louisville's all-white south section Monday night, in violation of an injunction against night marches issued Friday by a city judge.

At least two Negroes were struck by flying rocks hurled by a jeering crowd from across the street and taken to physicians for treatment. Police packed 18 hecklers into police wagons and made several other arrests.

No marchers were arrested for violating the restraining order. City law director Eugene Alvey said "it would be decided later" if any demonstrators would be cited for contempt of court.

The Negro leadership is seeking to dissolve the injunction in U.S. District Court, claiming the order violates constitutional rights of assembly and petition.

At a meeting held before the march, the Rev. A. D. Williams King, brother of Dr. Martin Luther King, promised "to walk the streets until they cut the streets from under us" in pursuit of an ordinance which would prohibit discrimination in the sale or rental of homes.

King said it was within "God's law" to violate the injunction and said "an unjust law is as near nothing as you can find."

"We must let the city and the nation know that we won't accept second - class citizenship when we pay first-class money," he said, and urged the open - housing advocates join with the local NAACP in a boycott of downtown stores announced for today.

King said city police like to empty local jails during Kentucky Derby week here, May 1-6, to make room for "obnoxious outsiders." He hinted it would aggravate police if the jails were filled up with civil rights demonstrators.

Of the 125 marchers, about 25 were demonstration "technicians" from Georgia, South Carolina and Chicago.

A jury of seven men and five women convicted him Saturday in Peoria and recommended execution.

Open Housing March Staged In Louisville

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Asserting the justness of civil disobedience, about 125 proponents of open housing marched for 2½ hours through Louisville's all-white south section Monday night, in violation of an injunction against night marches issued Friday by a city judge.

At least two Negroes were struck by flying rocks hurled by a jeering crowd from across the street and taken to physicians for treatment. Police packed 18 hecklers into police wagons and made several other arrests.

No marchers were arrested for violating the restraining order. City law director Eugene Alvey said "it would be decided later" if any demonstrators would be cited for contempt of court.

The Negro leadership is seeking to dissolve the injunction in U.S. District Court, claiming the order violates constitutional rights of assembly and petition.

At a meeting held before the march, the Rev. A. D. Williams King, brother of Dr. Martin Luther King, promised "to walk the streets until they cut the streets from under us" in pursuit of an ordinance which would prohibit discrimination in the sale or rental of homes.

King said it was within "God's law" to violate the injunction and said "an unjust law is as near nothing as you can find."

"We must let the city and the nation know that we won't accept second - class citizenship when we pay first-class money," he said, and urged the open - housing advocates join with the local NAACP in a boycott of downtown stores announced for today.

King said city police like to empty local jails during Kentucky Derby week here, May 1-6, to make room for "obnoxious outsiders." He hinted it would aggravate police if the jails were filled up with civil rights demonstrators.

Of the 125 marchers, about 25 were demonstration "technicians" from Georgia, South Carolina and Chicago.

Diamond Pendants

While most people think of diamonds as a ring stone, they are equally as effective in a number of other ways. For one of our popular television performers has become identified with a large diamond heart worn as a pendant. A gift from her husband, it is said that she is never without her sentimental pendant. Lying exactly in the hollow of the throat, it looks well with necklaces of pearls or gold when these are worn with certain costumes.

The American Gem Society advertisements in SEVENTEEN Magazine have been featuring a small diamond heart pendant as being the young girl's first important piece of jewelry, even before the engagement diamond. This type of necklace is also very appropriate and popular as the bridegroom's gift to his bride on their wedding day.

There is another type of pendant that might better be called by its proper name - - lavalliere - - after the beautiful French Countess who originated it, Louise de Lavalliere. Usually, this is a more elaborate jewel on a longer chain. Antique diamond pieces can often be adapted to create a lovely lavalliere. It can do "double duty" if the pendant part is detachable so it can be worn as a small brooch.

There are so many possibilities that I do hope you will discuss them with me after looking at what we have in stock. We are always pleased to make up something original for a special customer - - you!

Dorinda Rose and Kimberly Roberts, cousins of the bride, were flower girls. Their floor-length gowns were duplicates of that of the maid of honor. Their headbands were covered with ruffled tulle and pink sweetheart roses. They carried small baskets of pink petals.

MRS. RANDY FORD

Local Girl, Seattle Man Wed In Church Ceremony

Dresden re-embroidered Alencon lace accented the full-length gown of peau de soie worn by Miss Marianne Siddell when she became the bride of Randy Alan Ford the afternoon of April 9 at 3 o'clock in the First Church of Christ.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Siddel of Hill Blvd. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Layton Ford of Seattle, Wash.

The Rev. E. C. Traylor officiated for the double-ring ceremony before an altar banked with palms, ferns and candelabra. Satin bows marked the family pews.

Miss Paula Stewart presented a half-hour recital of organ music. Miss Peggy Courtner sang "Always," "Climb Every Mountain" and "The Lord's Prayer."

THE BRIDE was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. The Empire bodice of her gown was designed with a scoop neckline and long, pointed sleeves. Applique motifs were featured on the bodice and circled the A-line skirt, which was bounded with a scalloped lace forming a border effect. The back featured a detachable Watteau train.

Her fingertip veil of imported silk illusion fell from a three-tier crown of pearls and crystals. She carried a white Bible topped with an arrangement of white orchids and streamers stephanotis with lovers' knots tied in the satin streamers. The Bible was a gift at birth from her grandmother, Mrs. Margaret Garey.

She observed the familiar traditions, including the sixpence in her shoe, which was recently brought from England by her cousin, George Todd.

Miss Margie Siddel, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She appeared in a floor-length gown of poudre blue crystelle peau de soie fashioned with an Empire waistline. The bodice and short set-in sleeves were styled in imported French lace. The same lace formed the chapel train.

Bridesmaids, Miss Bonnie Schmidt and Miss Janet Garey, cousins of the bride, were attired in gowns similar to that of the maid of honor but the sleeves and bodice were made of crystelle. The gowns of the bride and her attendants were made by her mother.

Headpieces of the attendants were fashioned from matching lace with ringlets crossed in the back. They held shoulder-length illusion veiling. They all carried cascade arangements of pink rosebuds and carnations tied with streamers.

Dorinda Rose and Kimberly Roberts, cousins of the bride, were flower girls. Their floor-length gowns were duplicates of that of the maid of honor. Their headbands were covered with ruffled tulle and pink sweetheart roses. They carried small baskets of pink petals.

The mother of the bride chose an ensemble of Cottillion blue, raw silk and the bridegroom's mother, a three-piece ensemble of blue. Matching accessories and white orchid corsages complemented their attire.

Seven grandparents were in attendance. Grandmothers of the bride were Mrs. Garey, in beige lace; Mrs. Enoch Siddel, in a green suit, and grandmothers of the bridegroom, Mrs. Ralph Corder, Columbus, in aqua lace, and Mrs. Layton Ford, Mineral Wells, Tex., in Navy. They all wore white carnation corsages.

A RECEPTION for 250 followed in the social rooms. The buffet table was centered with a wedding cake nestled amid pink and blue tinted carnations and Springeri green. Lighted tapers in candelabra formed the setting. Favors were blue nylon tulle packets of rice.

Aides were Mrs. Robert Schmidt, Mrs. William Nichelson, Mrs. John Garey, aunts of the bride and Mrs. Donald Smith.

The bride was graduated in 1964 from East Liverpool High School and is a member of the junior class in the Ohio State University School of Music.

Her husband is a 1964 graduate of Walnut Ridge High School in Columbus and is a junior in the School of Commerce at Ohio State. He works as a page at the Ohio State Legislature.

Diamond Pendants

While most people think of diamonds as a ring stone, they are equally as effective in a number of other ways. For one of our popular television performers has become identified with a large diamond heart worn as a pendant. A gift from her husband, it is said that she is never without her sentimental pendant. Lying exactly in the hollow of the throat, it looks well with necklaces of pearls or gold when these are worn with certain costumes.

The American Gem Society advertisements in SEVENTEEN Magazine have been featuring a small diamond heart pendant as being the young girl's first important piece of jewelry, even before the engagement diamond. This type of necklace is also very appropriate and popular as the bridegroom's gift to his bride on their wedding day.

There is another type of pendant that might better be called by its proper name - - lavalliere - - after the beautiful French Countess who originated it, Louise de Lavalliere. Usually, this is a more elaborate jewel on a longer chain. Antique diamond pieces can often be adapted to create a lovely lavalliere. It can do "double duty" if the pendant part is detachable so it can be worn as a small brooch.

There are so many possibilities that I do hope you will discuss them with me after looking at what we have in stock. We are always pleased to make up something original for a special customer - - you!

Old U.S. Flag Replaced At Beaver Local

A new American flag was placed on the flagpole at Beaver Local High School Monday, according to Ted Taylor, high school principal.

Questioned about a letter from a student to The Review in Monday night's paper about the condition of the flag, Taylor said four new flags are used annually at the school.

He said the student did not talk to him about her complaint about the flag, and added he noticed it was soiled Friday and ordered a new one used yesterday.

Taylor said the girl had spoken to a teacher about the flag, who thought she was joking. She became angry and was subsequently given detention.

Taylor said he appreciates the girl's interest in the flag, adding the problem could have been solved had it been discussed with him.

Enroll For Insurance, City Workers Advised

Auditor Lawrence J. Zollinger today advised city employes to enroll for "family plan" hospital and surgical insurance if they are eligible and if they are now covered only by the individual plan.

Council is expected to enact legislation under which the city will pay the premiums for "family plan" coverage, although the final action has not been taken, the auditor explained. Employes must be enrolled in order to obtain the coverage, he added.

The Associated Hospital Service of Youngstown has agreed to hold open the contract until April 29 to enroll new "family plan" members, Zollinger said. If they are not signed by the deadline, they will not be eligible to enroll for a year when the contract is opened again, Zollinger said. Persons with questions should contact the auditor's office in person or by telephone, Zollinger said.

"Words can't describe electric heat. You have to live with it to really appreciate it."

Frank Irwin said this after he installed electric heating in his 17-year-old home in 1962. He still hasn't changed his mind.

"Electric heating is so much more comfortable and so much cleaner than the system we had before," says Ohio Power customer Frank Irwin. "We've really been happy with it. And have had absolutely no trouble at all with the system since we installed it." □ "It's sure economical, too. Our bills are less each year, even though our electrical usage is the same. Guess that's due to Ohio Power's rate reductions for all-electric homes." That's right. Electric heating, like anything new, was once pretty expensive. But as it became popular on a mass scale, the cost went down. □ You'd be happy with economical, flameless electric heating in your home. It's so easy to install anytime of year. Final Action Due Tonight

Employe Insurance Plan Advanced By Councilmen

Council gave the second of three required readings Monday night to legislation under which the city will pay the premiums for hospital and surgical insurance of dependents of its married employes and scheduled a special meeting for tonight at 7 to give the measure final passage.

The vote on second reading was 5-1, with Councilman Frank Duffy dissenting for the second time. He also voted "no" when the legislation was presented for the first time at a special session last Friday night.

THE MEASURE was supported by Councilmen Floyd Murray, Donna Richards Wilson, James Lowe, Harold Maylone and Norman Bucher. Robert W. Sample, the other member, was excused becuase he was at work. He supported the measure on first reading.

Shortly before adjournment, Council approved a motion by Bucher calling for the brief special session tonight for final passage of the legislation. A minimum of six affirmative votes would have been required to enact the measure on one reading.

Duffy said Friday night he opposed the measure because Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper had said it was "illegal." The other members of Council quoted Cooper as saying the measure "may be illegal," but the question never has been tested in the courts. Duffy said Cooper termed the ordinance "illegal" because it was "class legislation," in that it granted a benefit to married employes that was not provided for single workers.

THE ORDINANCE provides the city will pay the $12.99 monthly premiums which the employes now must provide themselves through payroll deductions. It is part of the settlement on wages and fringe benefits made by Council with members of the fire and police departments and unionized city workers. The city already pays the premiums for the employes' insurance coverage, but the charge for their life insurance.

Meanwhile, Council continued its discussion of fringe benefits in a caucus session with a committee from Local 677, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes. Charles Masters, president, was spokesman for the local.

The discussion centered mainly on the local's request for a seniority clause for use in determining choice of shifts and job assignments and a bid to extend maximum sick leave from 90 to 120 days.

In another wage matter, Council was advised in letters from Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff and Wilbur J. Harmon, clerk of the court, that the salaries of four employes have been raised. The clerk and the judge have the right to fix salaries under state law, they said in the letters.

Harmon advised that the annual salaries of Mrs. Phyllis Stewart and Mrs. Helen Steffen, deputy clerks, have been raised to $4,320 a year, effective April 15. The judge said the salaries of the clerk and Baliff Louis Yanni have been raised to $5,620 a year, also effective April 15.

The Health Board is another municipal agency which is autonomous in the question of salaries of employes. The court and Health Board workers were not included in the raise legislation Council approved Friday night, granting all workers $10 more a month.

Both the letters were referred to the finance committee.

8 From Key Club Attend Meeting

Gov. Shafer Asks Transit Master Plan

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Shafer called Monday for the development of a state master plan for transportation keyed to the feasibility of establishing a new, high-speed corridor across the Commonwealth.

"Such a plan would guide us toward making more intelligent decisions about the kind of new transportation modes we select and how they will interlock with our present system," Shafer said in a 3,700-word transportation message forwarded to the General Assembly.

The chief executive said that the economic future of the state may well depend upon a high-speed Keystone corridor recommended in a special study by Westinghouse Air Brake Co.

Quoting from the report, Shafer said:

"If Pennsylvania does not provide the corridor the rapidly increasing demand for high-speed transportation may result in an alternative route or system located outside of Pennsylvania which hurts, rather than helps, Pennsylvania's economy."

Shafer departed from past practice of delivering special messages personally to a joint session of the House and Senate. There was no reaction from the lawmakers, since they lacked time to digest its contents.

Shafer announced that he had formed a governor's committee on transportation and charged it with the responsibility of formulating his proposed master plan.

The committee is to be headed by Leland Hazard of Pittsburgh, a business and civic leader with a national reputation as a transportation expert, Shafer said.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Folks: You've written so many sweet letters to me, so many down-to-earth letters; letters all filled with compassion and heartfelt sympathies and knowledge.

But there is one particular subject that parents write to me about frequently. So today I have taken excerpts with their letters and compiled them into what I consider precious advice on a delicate subject.

Namely, what parents can do when their children fight over everything in the house . . . especially when one parent dies.

Many mothers and fathers have written that as they grow older they find there is no longer any need for such things as "the beautiful silver tray, the tea service, that handsome linen dinner cloth we've been proud of for so many years, or the lovely old procelain bowl that was grandmothers's. . . ."

They suggest (and I believe in this) that instead of waiting until one dies, these things should be divided perhaps on birthdays or Christmas) among the children, a favorite cousin or dear neighbor.

As one mother wrote: ". . . at least I had the pleasure of seeing their eyes when I gave it to them. My daughter-in-law grabbed me and gave me a great big hug and said, "Oh I'll cherish it always. How did you know that this was the one thing in your house I wanted? I feel so flattered that you gave it to me and everytime I clean it I'll remember you.' "

Folks, I really do believe these wonderful parents have found the answer. After all, as we get older we don't need all this silver and hard-to-iron linen. But our children do. They not only have the strength to care for it, but they are proud to show it to their friends. Besides they can brag (and don't think they don't) that "this was given to me by my mother (or mother-in-law) . . . it's been handed down in the family."

I have also had many widowers write to me saying that ". . . when I opened my wife's private bank box I found two diamond rings she had not worn for years. Why didn't she wear these rings and enjoy them — or give them to a loved one who would?" My only answer, dear friend, is do consider giving some of these things to your children while you are still able to see the joy in their eyes.

Even ministers write that joy cannot be joy unless it is shared. To share is beautiful. When we share anything — even if it's only a cup of coffee — the joys are multiplied. If you doubt this, try drinking a cup of coffee alone, then with a dear friend. The coffee even tastes better!

So as a serious thought for today, may I say that I do not believe in waiting until Christmas or birthdays to give presents. I believe when you love someone and if you have something they want, give it to them no matter if it's the "eighth Tuesday of the second month of the wrong year."

Today is here and we just live it. Yesterday is gone. Who knows if you or I or the ones we love will be here for the days yet to come.

I love each and every one of you who have taken the time to write. Every letter you send to me is read. Lots of them are re-read and all ARE loved.

Bless you,
HELOISE.

Coed's Swamped With Over 300 Marriage Offers

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Elizabeth Freedman says she isn't accepting any more marriage proposals. She already has more than 300 of them.

The 19-year-old sophomore at the University of Pennsylvania also says she has given up the idea of getting married as a means of getting out of a dormitory which she shares with some 150 other girls.

Miss Freedman placed an ad in the college newspaper last week seeking a husband as the only means to get out of the dorm. She claimed the girls were a distraction to her studies.

Only married coeds, or seniors, are allowed to live outside the dorm.

A college spokesman Monday described Miss Freedman as "an exhausted girl" and said she is in seclusion and not accepting any more phone calls.

The spokesman, however, relayed this comment from her: "I think we can work out a solution less drastic than marriage."

Employe Insurance Plan Advanced By Councilmen

Council gave the second of three required readings Monday night to legislation under which the city will pay the premiums for hospital and surgical insurance of dependents of its married employes and scheduled a special meeting for tonight at 7 to give the measure final passage.

The vote on second reading was 5-1, with Councilman Frank Duffy dissenting for the second time. He also voted "no" when the legislation was presented for the first time at a special session last Friday night.

THE MEASURE was supported by Councilmen Floyd Murray, Donna Richards Wilson, James Lowe, Harold Maylone and Norman Bucher. Robert W. Sample, the other member, was excused becuase he was at work. He supported the measure on first reading.

Shortly before adjournment, Council approved a motion by Bucher calling for the brief special session tonight for final passage of the legislation. A minimum of six affirmative votes would have been required to enact the measure on one reading.

Duffy said Friday night he opposed the measure because Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper had said it was "illegal." The other members of Council quoted Cooper as saying the measure "may be illegal," but the question never has been tested in the courts. Duffy said Cooper termed the ordinance "illegal" because it was "class legislation," in that it granted a benefit to married employes that was not provided for single workers.

THE ORDINANCE provides the city will pay the $12.99 monthly premiums which the employes now must provide themselves through payroll deductions. It is part of the settlement on wages and fringe benefits made by Council with members of the fire and police departments and unionized city workers. The city already pays the premiums for the employes' insurance coverage, but the charge for their life insurance.

Meanwhile, Council continued its discussion of fringe benefits in a caucus session with a committee from Local 677, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes. Charles Masters, president, was spokesman for the local.

The discussion centered mainly on the local's request for a seniority clause for use in determining choice of shifts and job assignments and a bid to extend maximum sick leave from 90 to 120 days.

In another wage matter, Council was advised in letters from Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff and Wilbur J. Harmon, clerk of the court, that the salaries of four employes have been raised. The clerk and the judge have the right to fix salaries under state law, they said in the letters.

Harmon advised that the annual salaries of Mrs. Phyllis Stewart and Mrs. Helen Steffen, deputy clerks, have been raised to $4,320 a year, effective April 15. The judge said the salaries of the clerk and Baliff Louis Yanni have been raised to $5,620 a year, also effective April 15.

The Health Board is another municipal agency which is autonomous in the question of salaries of employes. The court and Health Board workers were not included in the raise legislation Council approved Friday night, granting all workers $10 more a month.

Both the letters were referred to the finance committee.

8 From Key Club Attend Meeting

Eight members of the East Liverpool High School Key Club attended the international convention over the weekend at Columbus. They were Dan Dupont, Dale Jones, Joe Arcuragi, Dan Ensinger, Dave Tobin, Jack Linville, Tim Cunningham and Bob Matheny. They were accompanied by Irvin Vorndran and Merrill Hall.

East Liverpool received a second-place award for a single service project, a weekly radio show at WOHI; a second in the achievement award contest, an over-all report of the club's activities, and honorable mentions in the scrapbook and action report contests.

Dupont was elected as a candidate for an international office. He will be endorsed by the Ohio delegation in seeking office this summer during the convention at Louisville, Ky.

Vorndran, who just retired as a local Kiwanis Club sponsor of the Key Club, was presented a plaque in recognition of his many years service.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: You have insulted a very important segment of American society, and we are a touchy group. I refer to the Crossword Puzzle Buffs of America.

What do you mean by saying the ability to work out a crossword in record time is no proof to intelligence or general knowledge? You make it sound like any idiot can work a crossword while walking in his sleep. And your description of the crossword buff, "sitting with a dictionary in his lap," indeed!

Have you ever tried to sit with a 30-pound book in your lap? Well, be my guest!

Working crosswords is wonderful relaxation and at the same time it's a fine exercise in mental gymnastics. So, why don't you be a nice girl and give us a seven letter word for "I'm sorry?" — BUFFY.

Dear Buffy: Do you mean: "A-P-O-L-O-G-Y?" Okay. Am I forgiven?

Accuracy Counts

Dear Ann: As the owner of a small motel, I'm issuing a complaint against the way you repeatedly refer to motels as hideouts for immoral sex escapades.

In a recent column you said, "When a man takes a girl to a motel room — etc." Why didn't you say, "When a man takes a girl to a hotel room" or "to his apartment,' or "for a ride in his car?"

We have rescued many stranded people who had automobile trouble. Frequently we provide a temporary home for out-of-town families who are unable to find a place to rent immediately. We have salvaged many shaky marriages by making housing available to an angry man or wife, so he or she could spent a night alone and cool off and think things over.

So, please, Ann Landers, don't use "motel" as a synonym for den of iniquity. Thank you. — MIFFED.

Dear Miffed: When a person writes, "We went to a motel," I don't change it to read, "we went to a choir loft.'

I'm well aware that the majority of motel operators do everything they can to run a respectable inn. They don't want the two-hour customers. But when a person who writes to me says, "We went to a motel" I print "motel."

Two-Time Loser

Dear Ann: After several years of marriage to a fine but dull executive, I fell madly in love with a married man. We agreed to divorce our mates and spend the rest of our lives together.

My lover now has decided he cannot leave his family and the future looks bleak. I seem to be living in the back street of his life. Suddenly he feels he must pay more attention to his wife for the sake of appearance.

What should I do? Please give me your candid opinion. — MONTREAL

Dear Montreal: Your husband didn't have to do much twisting, the way I read it. My candid opinion is that you ought to wipe the egg off your face and ask your husband to take you back. If he agrees, consider yourself lucky and devote the rest of your life to making him happy.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Chamber Group Urges City To Name Full-Time Planner

The civic and community affairs committee of the Chamber of Commerce, at its monthly meeting Monday noon, went on record favoring appointment of a full - time city planning coordinator to assure that the municipality will get its full share of federal funds available for renewal and development projects and that the current "master plan" program will be pushed through to completion.

The committee voted unanimously to urge the Chamber's governing body — the Board of Trustees — to "do all in its power to encourage the city government to appoint a planning coordinator."

IN A discussion preceding the vote, the committee agreed that the city never will realize the full potential of development and renewal work without a full - time, trained coordinator to keep track of progress of various programs and urge federal and state officials into action, where necessary.

Mayor George E. Willshaw now is acting part - time as coordinator, a temporary arrangement agreed upon a few months ago after Council declined to name a full - time, salaried worker.

The Chamber board presumably will act on the committee's recommendation at its next meeting in May.

The committee renewed discussion of plans for an area-wide spring cleanup, timed to coincide with the municipality's yearly trash cleanup in mid-May. Placards were displayed which will be placed in store windows to advertise the campaign.

THE COMMITTEE also discussed the possibility of placing signs on trash containers in the business area, urging pedestrians and motorists to drop papers and other litter into the receptacles rather than scattering it on the street. There also was a discussion on littered, weed - grown sidewalks in several residential districts.

The committee also discussed: Progress on plans for extending city water service into the Glenmoor - Calcutta area through the Southeastern Water and Sewer District, a county-administered project; new developments on planning for a County Airport, and work of the County Regional Planning Commission.

In addition to Doak, members attending included Don Eckert, Robert E. Vodrey, Vincent Laneve, Craig Walton, W. G. Billingsley, Don McGillivray, Philip Irwin and Richard Mattern. The next regular meeting will be May 8.

MOM'S IN FAST COMPANY

...SINCE SHE GOT A NEW FLAME

Mom's new flame gives her something in common with a pretty exciting crowd—over 90% of all of the professional chefs.

Gas cooks faster than electricity. Chefs who supervise the preparation of hundreds of meals a day just haven't time to wait for pokey electric ranges to heat up or cool down.

These men and women whose reputations depend on their cooking choose Gas ranges because Gas cooks better than electricity . . . makes food taste better and look more appetizing. The 1,001 shades of heat that only a modern Gas range can give lets them—and you—bake, broil, braise, saute, simmer or stew with complete control.

People who cook for a restaurant full of discriminating gourmets—and people who cook for a kitchen full of hungry kids—know they can count on Gas ranges to let them be the good cooks they are.

Truck And Tractor Are Struck By Auto

HAMMONDSVILLE — A parked truck and tractor owned by David R. Crowe of Hammondsville were damaged when struck by a car operated by Charles Eugene Weaver, 18, of Amsterdam Saturday at 4:35 p. m. on Township Rd. 290 in front of the Crowe home.

The Wintersville Highway Patrol said Weaver was southbound when he applied his brakes and slid into the front of the 1967 pickup truck. The truck was knocked into the front of the tractor and the tractor in turn was shoved into a mail box.

Weaver was cited for driving without an operator's license.

MOM'S IN FAST COMPANY

...SINCE SHE GOT A NEW FLAME

Mom's new flame gives her something in common with a pretty exciting crowd—over 90% of all of the professional chefs.

Gas cooks faster than electricity. Chefs who supervise the preparation of hundreds of meals a day just haven't time to wait for pokey electric ranges to heat up or cool down.

These men and women whose reputations depend on their cooking choose Gas ranges because Gas cooks better than electricity . . . makes food taste better and look more appetizing. The 1,001 shades of heat that only a modern Gas range can give lets them—and you—bake, broil, braise, saute, simmer or stew with complete control.

People who cook for a restaurant full of discriminating gourmets—and people who cook for a kitchen full of hungry kids—know they can count on Gas ranges to let them be the good cooks they are.

IT'S OUR BIRTHDAY

We Are Celebrating 100 Of Them

One hundred years takes us back to the Reconstruction Days following the Civil War. It was then that a few men in Ohio formed the first Savings and Loan Association for the sole purpose of making money available to those families who wanted to establish their own homes. Unfortunately, few had the means but most families who had the desire for a home were willing to save a stipulated amount on a regular basis. Thus, hundreds saving together provided the means to borrow the needed money to build or buy a home. This simple arrangement has survived for 100 years and is growing with its savings members now being multiplied by the thousands; the cycle of saving and loaning has become larger and larger until today it involves almost all families seeking the aid of savings and loan associations to help them finance the biggest purchase of their lives—a home of their own.

What has happened during the last 100 years is also true of our immediate area. The four savings and loan institutions identified below are members of the Ohio Savings and Loan League and are pledged to observe and to abide by a high standard of rules which have provided the basis for the tremendous growth of this simple, effective idea that was born a century ago.

Cardwell's Blast Helps Sink Bucs

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Pirates Have 4 Errors

PITTSBURGH (AP) — New York Met pitcher Don Cardwell is giving his old Pittsburgh Pirate teammates something to remember him by—headaches.

Cardwell, frequently the butt of jokes by Pirate fans for his inability to complete more than one game last season with the Bucs, went 7 2-3 insings Monday night and was credited with a 9-6 victory over the Pirates.

"I like to beat anybody, not only the Pirates," said the 31-year-old right-hander when asked if he received any particular kick in beating his former teammates.

Cardwell expressed some bitterness when he was traded to the Mets last December after four seasons with the Bucs, saying Pirate Manager Harry Walker didn't use him right last year.

"There's no longer any animosity between Walker and me," Cardwell said. "I said something and it was my opinion."

Last year, Cardwell appeared in 32 games, started 14, completed one and wound up with a 6-6 record with the Pirates who finished third in the National league race.

Although it's early in the season, the veteran pitcher seems stronger on the mound as evidenced in Monday night's performance and in his season opener last Wednesday, also against the Pirates.

In that game, Cardwell pitched like a winner, but the Mets played like losers, committing five errors. He held the Pirates at bay until the ninth inning when they broke a 3-3 tie and won 6-3, handing Cardwell the loss.

The story was reversed Monday night with the Mets jumping off to a 9-3 lead at the end of five innings. The Pirates, tabbed by the oddsmakers as the National league team to beat this year, committed four errors in those five innings and over-all used five pitchers who gave up 1' hits.

Willie Stargell smacked a two-run homer in the eighth off Cardwell. Ron Taylor came on in relief to preserve the victory despite giving up a pinch— hit homer to Manny Jiminez with two outs in the ninth.

The game was the only one played Monday in the majors. The others, Chicago at Philadelphia, Washington at New York and Cleveland at Minnesota, were rained out.

Gains Unanimous Decision

Benvenuti Upsets Griffith

NEW YORK (AP) — Boxing had a new Golden Boy today in handsome Nino Benvenuti, Italy's first world middleweight boxing champion on his decisive upset of Emile Griffith in a spectacular 15-round fight.

"Sure, I'll be happy to fight him again," said the 28-year-old as he left Madison Square Garden Monday night with the resounding cheers of the pro-Benvenuti crowd of 14,251 still ringing in his ears after his unanimous decision victory.

"We'd like to put on the return bout in the Garden in July," said Harry Markson, the Garden's director of boxing who was pleased with the $141,799 gate for the televised fight.

"It was a sensational fight and should be a complete sellout. There's a handshake agreement between the managers for the return fight but I'd like to get it on paper."

Benvenuti, called The Intellectual in Italy because he likes to read books and talk about them, certainly had the book on the 29-year-old Griffith.

The fast-punching Italian, taller by 3½ inches and heavier by 5½ pounds-159 to 153½, dropped the 13-5 favored champion in the second round with a short right and was floored himself by a long right in the fourth.

The pro-Benvenuti crowd roared "Nee-no, Nee-no, Nee-no" as the challenger finished with a flourish, taking the final round with a determined attack even though he had the decision wrapped up.

Referee Mark Conn and judge Leo Birnbaum each had Benvenuti the winner on rounds, 10-5. Judge Al Berl had it 9-6 for Nino. The Associated Press scorecard had Benvenuti in front, 10-5.

The challenger was nicked on the bridge of his nose in the second round and cut deeply in the same place by an accidental butt in the seventh round. Griffith's left eye was half closed and he was lumped under the right eye.

"I knew I had him after the sixth round," said Benvenuti. "I trained for this like I never trained before. I wanted very much to knock him out but I'm very happy that I won. I wanted it so much."

"The kid won a beautiful fight," conceded Griffith. "He's a wonderful champion, and I hope to fight him again. I enjoyed the fight, I really did.

"But even Sandy Koufax got knocked out of the box once in a while."

Griffith referred to the former pitching great of the Los Angeles Dodgers who retired from baseball after last season.

Griffith had won eight straight title fights as a welterweight and then middleweight champion.

He won the middleweight crown from Dick Tiger a year ago and then beat Joey Archer in two defenses, all in New York. His over-all record is 52-8.

Benvenuti's record is 72-1. His only defeat was a disputed 15-round decison that cost him the world junior middleweight crown at Seoul, South Korea, last June 25. He was edged by Korean Ki Sim-Soo.

Cassius Denied On Final Appeals

CHICAGO (AP) —If he loses his legal battle, which sagged under a Supreme Court ruling Monday, heavyweight champion Cassius Clay says he will appear at his scheduled April 28 Army induction in Houston and "stand on my religious beliefs."

Clay, whose pleas for exemption as a Black Muslim minister have been rejected by draft officials, said that his religion forbids fighting and killing in wars.

"I will stand up for my religious beliefs even if it means I am put in jail for 50 years or am stood up in front of machine guns," he said.

"I am ready to suffer for my religion and take any punishment. I pray five times a day and am calling on Allah."

Asked if his appearance for induction would bring his refusal to take the oath, Clay replied, "I'm not saying that, but I've made my decision and I will give it at that time. You can make your own conclusions when I say I will stand on my religious beliefs and will be ready to face any punishment in order to follow them."

This was followed in Cincinnati with the 6th U.S. Circuit of Appeals turning down an injunction to halt the induction pending an appeal from a decision by Judge James F. Gordon of U.S. District Court in Owensboro, Ky.

Judge Gordon had refused to grant Clay's plea in March that he should be exempt because he is a Black Muslin minister.

The court also denied a request to order Judge Gordon to impanel a three-judge court to consider the original case.

Clay's attorney, Hayden Covington of New York, had claimed that a three-judge court was necessary to consider constitutional questions raised in Clay's behalf.

Covington indicated legal manuevering still was in the works.

"This is only the 10th round of a 15-round decision and I can tell you definitely there will be 15 rounds," said Covington after the Supreme Court ruling.

Covington said he will appeal again to the Supreme Court on Wednesday. He said he would ask the court to reconsider its decision.

NBA Playoff Series Moves To West Coast

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Coach Bill Sharman hopes his San Francisco Warriors find their shooting eyes and rebounding strength in the friendly Cow Palace gallery tonight.

Trailing 2-0 and with their backs to the wall in the best-of-7 final National Basketball Association playoff series, the Warriors are home to resume battle with Wilt Chamberlain and the Philadelphia 76ers.

"In baseball they say pitching is 80 per cent of the game and in basketball I'd say rebounding is 70 per cent," declared Sharman. "They killed us on the boards," 101 to 81.

He referred to the 126-95 lacing the Warriors took in Philadelphia on Sunday after losing the opener in overtime 141-135.

Winning two straight and the NBA title in San Francisco could be sweet revenge to 76er Coach Alex Hannum, who was fired as the Warrior coach last year.

The 7-foot, 1-inch Chamberlain, Most Valuable Player in the loop, might also gain extra satisfaction. The Warriors traded him to Philadelphia in 1965.

San Francisco had good news from the casualty contingent with word that 6-11 Nate Thurmond will play. The big pivotman, a key to the Warriors' rebounding, suffered an injured hip in Philadelphia on Sunday.

The hip still is sore but Nate will play. There's no such assurance for Fred Hetze, who teams with Rick Barry in the forward spots. Although X rays showed no fracture, his left ankle still is sore.

Barry also is troubled with a bum left ankle but shots and tape will have him ready to go although he lacks the balance which made him the league's leading scorer.

During the regular season, the 76ers held a 6-2 margin over San Francisco. On the other hand, the Warriors haven't lost this season in the Cow Palace, winning three regular season games and five playoff encounters.

U.S. To Face Mexico

MEXICO CITY (AP) Mexico will meet the United States in the second round of the American Zone Davis Cup playoffs in Mexico City May 19-21 after eliminating New Zealand 4-1 in the northern section of the playoffs Monday.

Hawks Coach Criticizes Delay Of Game For TV

TORONTO (AP) — Facing possible elimination in the Stanley Cup semifinal series against Toronto tonight, Coach Billy Reay of the Chicago Black Hawks sharply criticized the delaying of hockey games because of television commercials.

Action repeatedly was halted in Saturday's 4-2 loss to Toronto in Chicago in order to complete commercials while referee John Ashley waited for the go-ahead from the broadcast booth.

"If they want to televise hockey," moaned Reay, "then they have to adapt to the game. We've been drilled that this is a game of continuous action.

"Now all of a sudden, we have to wait for commercials. If a coach argues and causes a delay in the game, whack, he's slapped with a penalty.

"This is a game of constant action. It always has been, and that's the way it should be played. There's nothing more frustrating for the players than to have to stand around and wait to get started again. Especially so when one team is hot."

Reay's attitude is understandable. His Black Hawks, champions of the National Hockey League for the first time, must win Tuesday night or be eliminated by Toronto which has a 3-2 edge in the best-of-7 series.

If the Hawks win, the series goes to Chicago Thursday night for the final game to decide which team will face Montreal in the championship series. Montreal eliminated New York in four straight games.

A Hawk victory will not be easy to attain on Toronto ice, especially if star center Stan Mikita is unable to play. Mikita has a pulled muscle in his right thigh.

"Play? Sure, I want to play," said Mikita, "but I just don't know. It's all up to Reay and how the leg feels at game time."

Reay said he would make his decision shortly before the crucial game.

Burbick's Will Hold Practice Wednesday

Burbick's of the Little League will hold its first workout Wednesday at 4:30 p. m. at Chester City Park. All boys listed on the Burbick roster are requested to attend. Al Clutter is manager and John Unger, coach. In case of rain players are requested to report Thursday.

Russia Seeks To Heal Track Differences

NEW YORK (AP) — The split in athletic relations between the United States and Russia, caused by the Soviet withdrawal from a track meet between the two countries last year, is showing signs of healing.

The Russians indicated Monday that they are ready to begin discussing ways of making payments to compensate for the cost of preparations of the meet that was canceled last June.

Russia withdrew from the meet, scheduled for Los Angeles, as a protest against American participation in the war in Vietnam.

Col. Donald Hull, executive director of the Amateur Athletic Union, said Monday that he had received a letter from Russian officials suggesting several methods of making the payments.

Hull said the officials had offered to make the payment in rubles to be spent by American officials in Russia or to be used for travel expenses of Russian and American athletes in exchange competition.

Hull said the second method would probably be used, because the U.S. State Department opposed payment in rubles. He said the final settlement would probably be about $100,000.

Cardwell's Blast Helps Sink Bucs

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Pirates Have 4 Errors

Cardwell, frequently the butt of jokes by Pirate fans for his inability to complete more than one game last season with the Bucs, went 7 2-3 insings Monday night and was credited with a 9-6 victory over the Pirates.

"I like to beat anybody, not only the Pirates," said the 31-year-old right-hander when asked if he received any particular kick in beating his former teammates.

Cardwell expressed some bitterness when he was traded to the Mets last December after four seasons with the Bucs, saying Pirate Manager Harry Walker didn't use him right last year.

"There's no longer any animosity between Walker and me," Cardwell said. "I said something and it was my opinion."

Last year, Cardwell appeared in 32 games, started 14, completed one and wound up with a 6-6 record with the Pirates who finished third in the National league race.

Although it's early in the season, the veteran pitcher seems stronger on the mound as evidenced in Monday night's performance and in his season opener last Wednesday, also against the Pirates.

In that game, Cardwell pitched like a winner, but the Mets played like losers, committing five errors. He held the Pirates at bay until the ninth inning when they broke a 3-3 tie and won 6-3, handing Cardwell the loss.

The story was reversed Monday night with the Mets jumping off to a 9-3 lead at the end of five innings. The Pirates, tabbed by the oddsmakers as the National league team to beat this year, committed four errors in those five innings and over-all used five pitchers who gave up 1' hits.

Willie Stargell smacked a two-run homer in the eighth off Cardwell. Ron Taylor came on in relief to preserve the victory despite giving up a pinch— hit homer to Manny Jiminez with two outs in the ninth.

Benvenuti Upsets Griffith

NEW YORK (AP) — Boxing had a new Golden Boy today in handsome Nino Benvenuti, Italy's first world middleweight boxing champion on his decisive upset of Emile Griffith in a spectacular 15-round fight.

"Sure, I'll be happy to fight him again," said the 28-year-old as he left Madison Square Garden Monday night with the resounding cheers of the pro-Benvenuti crowd of 14,251 still ringing in his ears after his unanimous decision victory.

"We'd like to put on the return bout in the Garden in July," said Harry Markson, the Garden's director of boxing who was pleased with the $141,799 gate for the televised fight.

"It was a sensational fight and should be a complete sell-out. There's a handshake agreement between the managers for the return fight but I'd like to get it on paper."

Benvenuti, called The Intellectual in Italy because he likes to read books and talk about them, certainly had the book on the 29-year-old Griffith.

The fast-punching Italian, taller by 3½ inches and heavier by 5½ pounds-159 to 153½, dropped the 13-5 favored champion in the second round with a short right and was floored himself by a long right in the fourth.

The pro-Benvenuti crowd roared "Nee-no, Nee-no, Nee-no" as the challenger finished with a flourish, taking the final round with a determined attack even though he had the decision wrapped up.

Referee Mark Conn and judge Leo Birnbaum each had Benvenuti the winner on rounds, 10-5. Judge Al Berl had it 9-6 for Nino. The Associated Press scorecard had Benvenuti in front, 10-5.

The challenger was nicked on the bridge of his nose in the second round and cut deeply in the same place by an accidental butt in the seventh round. Griffith's left eye was half closed and he was lumped under the right eye.

"I knew I had him after the sixth round," said Benvenuti. "I trained for this like I never trained before. I wanted very much to knock him out but I'm very happy that I won. I wanted it so much."

"The kid won a beautiful fight," conceded Griffith. "He's a wonderful champion, and I hope to fight him again. I enjoyed the fight, I really did.

"But even Sandy Koufax got knocked out of the box once in a while."

Griffith referred to the former pitching great of the Los Angeles Dodgers who retired from baseball after last season.

Griffith had won eight straight title fights as a welterweight and then middleweight champion.

He won the middleweight crown from Dick Tiger a year ago and then beat Joey Archer in two defenses, all in New York. His over-all record is 52-8.

Benvenuti's record is 72-1. His only defeat was a disputed 15-round decison that cost him the world junior middleweight crown at Seoul, South Korea, last June 25. He was edged by Korean Ki Sim-Soo.

Cassius Denied On Final Appeals

CHICAGO (AP) —If he loses his legal battle, which sagged under a Supreme Court ruling Monday, heavyweight champion Cassius Clay says he will appear at his scheduled April 28 Army induction in Houston and "stand on my religious beliefs."

Clay, whose pleas for exemption as a Black Muslim minister have been rejected by draft officials, said that his religion forbids fighting and killing in wars.

"I will stand up for my religious beliefs even if it means I am put in jail for 50 years or am stood up in front of machine guns," he said.

"I am ready to suffer for my religion and take any punishment. I pray five times a day and am calling on Allah."

Asked if his appearance for induction would bring his refusal to take the oath, Clay replied, "I'm not saying that, but I've made my decision and I will give it at that time. You can make your own conclusions when I say I will stand on my religious beliefs and will be ready to face any punishment in order to follow them."

This was followed in Cincinnati with the 6th U.S. Circuit of Appeals turning down an injunction to halt the induction pending an appeal from a decision by Judge James F. Gordon of U.S. District Court in Owensboro, Ky.

Judge Gordon had refused to grant Clay's plea in March that he should be exempt because he is a Black Muslin minister.

The court also denied a request to order Judge Gordon to impanel a three-judge court to consider the original case.

Clay's attorney, Hayden Covington of New York, had claimed that a three-judge court was necessary to consider constitutional questions raised in Clay's behalf.

Covington indicated legal manuevering still was in the works.

"This is only the 10th round of a 15-round decision and I can tell you definitely there will be 15 rounds," said Covington after the Supreme Court ruling.

Covington said he will appeal again to the Supreme Court on Wednesday. He said he would ask the court to reconsider its decision.

NBA Playoff Series Moves To West Coast

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Coach Bill Sharman hopes his San Francisco Warriors find their shooting eyes and rebounding strength in the friendly Cow Palace gallery tonight.

Trailing 2-0 and with their backs to the wall in the best-of-7 final National Basketball Association playoff series, the Warriors are home to resume battle with Wilt Chamberlain and the Philadelphia 76ers.

"In baseball they say pitching is 80 per cent of the game and in basketball I'd say rebounding is 70 per cent," declared Sharman. "They killed us on the boards," 101 to 81.

He referred to the 126-95 lacing the Warriors took in Philadelphia on Sunday after losing the opener in overtime 141-135.

Winning two straight and the NBA title in San Francisco could be sweet revenge to 76er Coach Alex Hannum, who was fired as the Warrior coach last year.

The 7-foot, 1-inch Chamberlain, Most Valuable Player in the loop, might also gain extra satisfaction. The Warriors traded him to Philadelphia in 1965.

San Francisco had good news from the casualty contingent with word that 6-11 Nate Thurmond will play. The big pivotman, a key to the Warriors' rebounding, suffered an injured hip in Philadelphia on Sunday.

The hip still is sore but Nate will play. There's no such assurance for Fred Hetze, who teams with Rick Barry in the forward spots. Although X rays showed no fracture, his left ankle still is sore.

Barry also is troubled with a bum left ankle but shots and tape will have him ready to go although he lacks the balance which made him the league's leading scorer.

During the regular season, the 76ers held a 6-2 margin over San Francisco. On the other hand, the Warriors haven't lost this season in the Cow Palace, winning three regular season games and five playoff encounters.

Hawks Coach Criticizes Delay Of Game For TV

TORONTO (AP) — Facing possible elimination in the Stanley Cup semifinal series against Toronto tonight, Coach Billy Reay of the Chicago Black Hawks sharply criticized the delaying of hockey games because of television commercials.

Action repeatedly was halted in Saturday's 4-2 loss to Toronto in Chicago in order to complete commercials while referee John Ashley waited for the go-ahead from the broadcast booth.

"If they want to televise hockey," moaned Reay, "then they have to adapt to the game. We've been drilled that this is a game of continuous action.

"Now all of a sudden, we have to wait for commercials. If a coach argues and causes a delay in the game, whack, he's slapped with a penalty.

"This is a game of constant action. It always has been, and that's the way it should be played. There's nothing more frustrating for the players than to have to stand around and wait to get started again. Especially so when one team is hot."

Reay's attitude is understandable. His Black Hawks, champions of the National Hockey League for the first time, must win Tuesday night or be eliminated by Toronto which has a 3-2 edge in the best-of-7 series.

If the Hawks win, the series goes to Chicago Thursday night for the final game to decide which team will face Montreal in the championship series. Montreal eliminated New York in four straight games.

A Hawk victory will not be easy to attain on Toronto ice, especially if star center Stan Mikita is unable to play. Mikita has a pulled muscle in his right thigh.

"Play? Sure, I want to play," said Mikita, "but I just don't know. It's all up to Reay and how the leg feels at game time."

Reay said he would make his decision shortly before the crucial game.

Russia Seeks To Heal Track Differences

NEW YORK (AP) — The split in athletic relations between the United States and Russia, caused by the Soviet withdrawal from a track meet between the two countries last year, is showing signs of healing.

The Russians indicated Monday that they are ready to begin discussing ways of making payments to compensate for the cost of preparations of the meet that was canceled last June.

Russia withdrew from the meet, scheduled for Los Angeles, as a protest against American participation in the war in Vietnam.

Col. Donald Hull, executive director of the Amateur Athletic Union, said Monday that he had received a letter from Russian officials suggesting several methods of making the payments.

Hull said the officials had offered to make the payment in rubles to be spent by American officials in Russia or to be used for travel expenses of Russian and American athletes in exchange competition.

Hull said the second method would probably be used, because the U.S. State Department opposed payment in rubles. He said the final settlement would probably be about $100,000.

3 Coin Machines Looted In Entry At Milliron Firm

Three vending machines were forced open and looted of an undetermined amount in change in an entry between 5 and 11 p. m. Monday at the riverfront office of the Milliron Co., police reported.

The burglar broke a piece of weather stripping alongside the door and then forced it open with some sort of pry bar, police said. A soft drink machine, a coffee machine and a candy machine were rifled. The coin boxes were found on the floor. Desk drawers also were ransacked, but it could not be determined immediately if anything was taken, police said.

The entry was discovered by Frank Blystone, night watchman, when he reported for work. Patrolmen Howard Frontz and Dwight Garvey investigated.

Meanwhile, a burglar escaped with 23 bottles of wine, two and a half cases of beer and about $30 in change in a burglary Sunday night or Monday morning at Wright's Bar on Virginia Ave., owned by Boots Wright, police said. The intruder broke a lock on a door on the south side of the building. The loss included 18 fifths and five pints of wine, plus the beer and change.

Iowa Student With New Left Political Views Quits School

Donald R. Smith withdrew from school Monday, a day before he was scheduled to appear before the Student Senate for an impeachment hearing demanded after he admitted attending a marijuana party. The admission apparently turned a part of the 15,000-member student body against him.

Smith, 21, rattled Iowans with his unorthodox views.

Iowa State University President W. Robert Parks, who had refused to comment about Smith before, immediately announced an intensified probe of illegal use of drugs among ISU students.

Parks said, however, he felt probably "only a handful of students" had used illegal drugs.

Smith, an engineering senior from Rockwell, Iowa, said he quit because the impeachment case had grown into a "smear campaign against me and my friends."

The decision drew mixed reactions.

One of Smith's sternest critics, State Sen. William J. Reichardt, D-Des Moines, commented: "Although I have disagreed with some of his actions, I am disappointed that he threw in the towel. He takes a stand and gets into the arena. My concern is for the wholesome young people that would let such a person represent them."

Another legislator said he was happy to see Smith leave.

"This tickles me," said State Rep. Charles Grassley, R-New Hartford. "It shows that the people are still running the university, after all."

She was Smith's running mate on a platform to abolish most university regulations outside the classroom. She vowed to continue Smith's program.

Smith, whose future plans were unknown, said he was "bitter," but added: "I have faith that others more suited than I to lead will take advantage of the present situation to build a strong and meaningful student government."

Youth, 18, Quizzed In Slaying Of Girl

CLEVELAND (AP) — A 16-year-old Cleveland girl was shot fatally in her home Monday. Police arrested a boyfriend, 18, for questioning.

Police said the girl was shot in the head with a pistol.

The boy, who purportedly had been told not to see the girl anymore, was quoted by police as saying he and Jacqueline were playing with the gun and that it accidentally went off when she reached for it.

The youth also is awaiting court action on charges that he robbed an East Side shoe store Jan. 14.

Man Charged In Burglary

A Pittsburgh man, charged with a burglary at the Tusca Shopping Center in Brighton Township, is being held at Pittsburgh for Beaver County authorities.

Henry DeTemple of Arlington Ave., Pittsburgh, was taken into custody Monday by Pittsburgh police and held on charges of burglary, violation of the firearms act and receiving stolen goods.

He is due a preliminary hearing Tuesday at Westview, according to Pennsylvania state police at Chippewa.

Officers said he is linked with a burglary at the Public Drugstore at the shopping center. A bottle of cocaine, $40 in cash and a .32-caliber revolver were taken.

Formal Papers Ask Extradition Of Novel

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Acting Gov. C. C. Aycock signed formal papers Monday requesting extradition of Gordon Novel from Columbus, Ohio, on a burglary charge, and instructed they be forwarded to Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes for action.

Novel, 29, one-time New Orleans nightspot operator, was arrested in a Columbus suburb April 1 on a fugitive warrant issued in Louisiana.

Authorities said the papers seeking Novel's return were based on a charge of conspiring to burglarlize an oil well drilling firm's munitions bunker at Houma, La.

Earlier, however, a warrant had been issued for Novel as a material witness in New Orleans Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison's inquiry into a possible conspiracy in the assassination of President Kennedy.

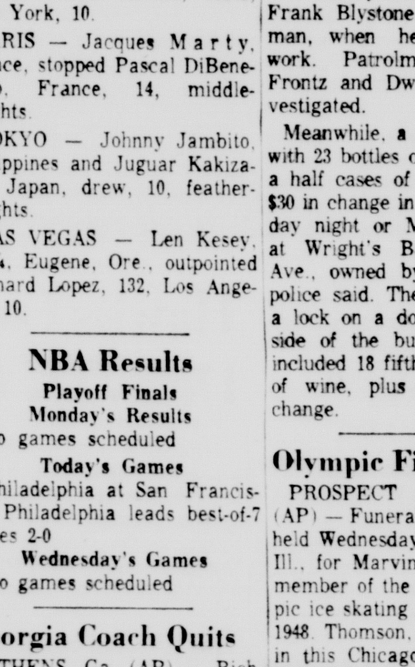

Novel has been free on $10,000 bond.

3 Coin Machines Looted In Entry At Milliron Firm

Three vending machines were forced open and looted of an undetermined amount in change in an entry between 5 and 11 p. m. Monday at the riverfront office of the Milliron Co., police reported.

The burglar broke a piece of weather stripping alongside the door and then forced it open with some sort of pry bar, police said. A soft drink machine, a coffee machine and a candy machine were rifled. The coin boxes were found on the floor. Desk drawers also were ransacked, but it could not be determined immediately if anything was taken, police said.

The entry was discovered by Frank Blystone, night watchman, when he reported for work. Patrolmen Howard Frontz and Dwight Garvey investigated.

Meanwhile, a burglar escaped with 23 bottles of wine, two and a half cases of beer and about $30 in change in a burglary Sunday night or Monday morning at Wright's Bar on Virginia Ave., owned by Boots Wright, police said. The intruder broke a lock on a door on the south side of the building. The loss included 18 fifths and five pints of wine, plus the beer and change.

Donald R. Smith withdrew from school Monday, a day before he was scheduled to appear before the Student Senate for an impeachment hearing demanded after he admitted attending a marijuana party. The admission apparently turned a part of the 15,000-member student body against him.

Smith, 21, rattled Iowans with his unorthodox views.

Iowa State University President W. Robert Parks, who had refused to comment about Smith before, immediately announced an intensified probe of illegal use of drugs among ISU students.

Parks said, however, he felt probably "only a handful of students" had used illegal drugs.

Smith, an engineering senior from Rockwell, Iowa, said he quit because the impeachment case had grown into a "smear campaign against me and my friends."

The decision drew mixed reactions.

One of Smith's sternest critics, State Sen. William J. Reichardt, D-Des Moines, commented: "Although I have disagreed with some of his actions, I am disappointed that he threw in the towel. He takes a stand and gets into the arena. My concern is for the wholesome young people that would let such a person represent them."

Another legislator said he was happy to see Smith leave.

"This tickles me," said State Rep. Charles Grassley, R-New Hartford. "It shows that the people are still running the university, after all."

She was Smith's running mate on a platform to abolish most university regulations outside the classroom. She vowed to continue Smith's program.

Smith, whose future plans were unknown, said he was "bitter," but added: "I have faith that others more suited than I to lead will take advantage of the present situation to build a strong and meaningful student government."

Police said the girl was shot in the head with a pistol.

The boy, who purportedly had been told not to see the girl anymore, was quoted by police as saying he and Jacqueline were playing with the gun and that it accidentally went off when she reached for it.

Formal Papers Ask Extradition Of Novel

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Acting Gov. C. C. Aycock signed formal papers Monday requesting extradition of Gordon Novel from Columbus, Ohio, on a burglary charge, and instructed they be forwarded to Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes for action.

Novel, 29, one-time New Orleans nightspot operator, was arrested in a Columbus suburb April 1 on a fugitive warrant issued in Louisiana.

Authorities said the papers seeking Novel's return were based on a charge of conspiring to burglarlize an oil well drilling firm's munitions bunker at Houma, La.

Earlier, however, a warrant had been issued for Novel as a material witness in New Orleans Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison's inquiry into a possible conspiracy in the assassination of President Kennedy.

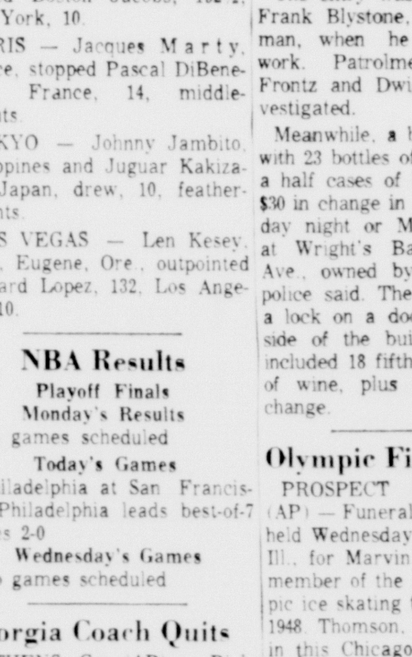

Novel has been free on $10,000 bond.

Council's Decision

Officials To Air Lee St. Problem

Council's three-man street committee agreed Monday night to meet Saturday at 9 a. m. with Liverpool Township trustees to attempt to iron out problems over maintenance of Lee St., an unimproved thoroughfare in the Columbian Park area of East End that runs through both the city and the township.

A Lee St. delegation appeared before Council last night for the second time in two weeks complaining about the condition of the street. The residents were accompanied by Richard Sanford and Guy Digman, township trustees.

The delegation explained at the prior meeting that the trouble arises primarily because two sections of the street run through private property. Since the sections are not dedicated for street purposes, there is a question about the city's legal right to go onto private property and perform maintenance work.

THE RESIDENTS also told Council earlier that Mike Pusateri, who owns one section of ground traversed by the street near Pennsylvania Ave. has agreed to deed a strip for street purposes. But the owner of another private strip has not indicated willingness to turn over a section for public use, they said.

Keith Tucker of Lee St., one of the spokesmen, said Pusateri has promised to get in touch with Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper or Council members "to see what he has to do to dedicate part of his property for street purposes."

"The street is in bad shape: something has to be done one way or another," Tucker said.

Councilman Floyd Murray, chairman of the street committee, said Pusateri has not contacted him. He added that the city "might be taking on a burden" if it assumes the care of the deteriorated section of road.

James Lowe, another member of the street committee, said he believes councilmen should confer with the trustees "to try to work out a solution."

Sanford said the street is dedicated in the township segment. Digman added that "these people have to have a way in and out to their homes."

"You couldn't ride a billy goat over that road now," he said.

As the discussion ended, the street committee agreed to meet with the trustees. It is comprised of Murray, Lowe and Norman Bucher.

"I have already told the people up there I will do anything possible to help them, although the street is not in the city," Murray commented. "I feel we should work closely with the trustees on this and other questions."

IN OTHER business, Robert Owen, chairman of the City Park Commission, asked Council to create a "no parking tow-away zone" on the short driveway that leads from the River Rd. to the city-maintained boat-launching ramp at the foot of Broadway.

Parked vehicles interfere with maneuvering of vehicles towing boats on trailers to the ramp, he said. In addition, the ramp should be kept clear for use of emergency vehicles such as rescue craft, he added.

The request was referred to the ordinance committee, with instructions to present legislation implementing Owen's request.

Fire Chief Alfred Van Dyne also asked a new parking regulation, covering the area from Thompson Pl. to the Chester Bridge. He said vehicles sometimes block the entrance to Thompson Pl. so that the fire department's large pumper would be unable to enter the district. His request was referred to the street committee.

Murray, reporting for the street committee, reommended installation of a new street light on Lincoln Ave. between Burton Alley and Grant St. The recommendation was approved.

COUNCIL referred to the finance committee a letter from the Board of Public Utilities asking creation of the new post of clerk - secretary for the water and sewer departments at a monthly salary of $328. The salary would be paid equally out of funds of the two departments, according to the letter signed by W. O. Schneider, chairman of the board.

"The action will not require any additional personnel, as the duties now are being performed on an hourly basis and paid for with money appropriated for clerk hire," Schneider wrote. He indicated the board will name to the post Miss Barbara C. Banks, who has been performing the work for nearly a year.

The meeting opened with invocation by the Rev. H. Gene Toot, pastor of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church. President Ernest Lowe presided.

Cars Collide On Route 170

Two local residents suffered slight injuries when their cars collided Monday at 6:20 p. m. on Route 170, seven-tenths of a mile east of Route 30.

The Highway Patrol at Lisbon said the crash involved cars operated by Mrs. Ella E. Hoge, 55, of Glenmoor and Joseph H. Groubert, 76, of 689 Lincoln Ave.

Mrs. Hoge was eastbound and halted to make a left turn into a shopping plaza parking lot when she was struck in the rear by Groubert's car, officers said. Groubert was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Both complained of injuries.

A car operated by Catherine I. Hutton, 35, of 330½ 2nd St., Chester, struck a deer on Route 30, about three miles south of Route 45, Monday at 9 p. m.

Officers said the Hutton car was northbound when the animal ran into its path. Slight damage resulted to the front of her 1962 sedan.

The deer was badly hurt and had to be destroyed.

Janet Louise Reed Atlas, 23, of Shadyside Ave., suffered minor injuries when her car wrecked on Route 7, eight-tenths of a mile north of Route 558 Monday at 10:05 a. m.

Officers said she was southbound and started to apply her brakes as she came upon traffic. The car slid off the right side of the road and came to rest in some small trees. Moderate damage resulted to the front of the 1966 sedan.

A pickup truck operated by Horace H. Robbins, 67, of New Waterford R. D. 1 and a car driven by Freda Helen Thomas, 56, of Salem figured in a crash at 8:45 a. m. yesterday on Route 14A, a mile and seven-tenths east of Washingtonville.

Harold Spender, 26, of Salineville R. D. 1 was cited for driving an unsafe vehicle after he sideswiped 30 feet of guardrail along Route 45, three and six-tenths miles south of Salem Monday at 9:45 a. m.

He was northbound when he lost control during a rain storm and went off the highway, officers said.

Palestine Slates PUCO Protest On Gas Firm's Move

EAST PALESTINE — A formal resolution of protest to be presented to the Ohio Public Utilities Commission concerning the scheduled closing of the East Ohio Gas Co. office here was approved by Council Monday night.

The legislators discussed the closing with Raymond Lohr, Youngstown district manager for the utility, who said the step still is planned for July 1 despite previous protests from Council.

Lohr pointed out the union is insisting all troubleshooter work now being done by Charles McGuire, not a union member, is to be done by union members from the Youngstown office.

McGuire has indicated he may retire after 47 years with the firm rather than drive from Youngstown.

In other action, Council approved purchase of a $300 standby electric generator for the City Hall for use in the event regular power fails. This would permit operation of police radios and other equipment in emergencies.

Council's Decision

Officials To Air Lee St. Problem

Council's three-man street committee agreed Monday night to meet Saturday at 9 a. m. with Liverpool Township trustees to attempt to iron out problems over maintenance of Lee St., an unimproved thoroughfare in the Columbian Park area of East End that runs through both the city and the township.

A Lee St. delegation appeared before Council last night for the second time in two weeks complaining about the condition of the street. The residents were accompanied by Richard Sanford and Guy Digman, township trustees.

The delegation explained at the prior meeting that the trouble arises primarily because two sections of the street run through private property. Since the sections are not dedicated for street purposes, there is a question about the city's legal right to go onto private property and perform maintenance work.

THE RESIDENTS also told Council earlier that Mike Pusateri, who owns one section of ground traversed by the street near Pennsylvania Ave. has agreed to deed a strip for street purposes. But the owner of another private strip has not indicated willingness to turn over a section for public use, they said.

Keith Tucker of Lee St., one of the spokesmen, said Pusateri has promised to get in touch with Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper or Council members "to see what he has to do to dedicate part of his property for street purposes."

"The street is in bad shape; something has to be done one way or another," Tucker said.

Councilman Floyd Murray, chairman of the street committee, said Pusateri has not contacted him. He added that the city "might be taking on a burden" if it assumes the care of the deteriorated section of road.

James Lowe, another member of the street committee, said he believes councilmen should confer with the trustees "to try to work out a solution."

Sanford said the street is dedicated in the township segment. Digman added that "these people have to have a way in and out to their homes."

"You couldn't ride a billy goat over that road now," he said.

As the discussion ended, the street committee agreed to meet with the trustees. It is comprised of Murray, Lowe and Norman Bucher.

"I have already told the people up there I will do anything possible to help them, although the street is not in the city," Murray commented. "I feel we should work closely with the trustees on this and other questions."

IN OTHER business, Robert Owen, chairman of the City Park Commission, asked Council to create a "no parking tow-away zone" on the short driveway that leads from the River Rd. to the city-maintained boat-launching ramp at the foot of Broadway.

Parked vehicles interfere with maneuvering of vehicles towing boats on trailers to the ramp, he said. In addition, the ramp should be kept clear for use of emergency vehicles such as rescue craft, he added.

The request was referred to the ordinance committee, with instructions to present legislation implementing Owen's request.

Fire Chief Alfred Van Dyne also asked a new parking regulation, covering the area from Thompson Pl. to the Chester Bridge. He said vehicles sometimes block the entrance to Thompson Pl. so that the fire department's large pumper would be unable to enter the district. His request was referred to the street committee.

Murray, reporting for the street committee, reommended installation of a new street light on Lincoln Ave. between Burton Alley and Grant St. The recommendation was approved.

COUNCIL referred to the finance committee a letter from the Board of Public Utilities asking creation of the new post of clerk - secretary for the water and sewer departments at a monthly salary of $328. The salary would be paid equally out of funds of the two departments, according to the letter signed by W. O. Schneider, chairman of the board.

"The action will not require any additional personnel, as the duties now are being performed on an hourly basis and paid for with money appropriated for clerk hire," Schneider wrote. He indicated the board will name to the post Miss Barbara C. Banks, who has been performing the work for nearly a year.

The meeting opened with invocation by the Rev. H. Gene Toot, pastor of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church. President Ernest Lowe presided.

Seven Local Students Will Enter Art Show

Seven East Liverpool High School students will have entries this spring in the International Art program.

This is the first time local students have entered the show.

Drawings will be submitted by Patti Skaleski, Mike Ross, Fred Schutz, Gloria Jones, Diana Lerch, Eleanor Nicastro and Marvin Merriman to the Eastern Area at Alexandria, Va.

Selections will be made there for the national showing in Washington, D. C. The activity is jointly sponsored by the National Art Education Association and the Red Cross. It is open to all students in grades 7 through 12.

The program was initiated in 1947 and is designed to "arouse a friendly, mutual interest among young people of the world."

Since its inception, more than 50,000 paintings from American youth have been shipped abroad. During this interval the number of Red Cross societies sending similar materials to the United States has increased from four to 48.

The local entries will be on display in Ogilvie's store windows Thursday and Friday, according to Miss Mildred McGregor, Red Cross youth chairman.

Cars Collide On Route 170

Two local residents suffered slight injuries when their cars collided Monday at 6:20 p. m. on Route 170, seven-tenths of a mile east of Route 30.

The Highway Patrol at Lisbon said the crash involved cars operated by Mrs. Ella E. Hoge, 55, of Glenmoor and Joseph H. Groubert, 76, of 689 Lincoln Ave.

Mrs. Hoge was eastbound and halted to make a left turn into a shopping plaza parking lot when she was struck in the rear by Groubert's car, officers said. Groubert was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Both complained of injuries.

A car operated by Catherine I. Hutton, 35, of 330½ 2nd St., Chester, struck a deer on Route 30, about three miles south of Route 45, Monday at 9 p. m.

Officers said the Hutton car was northbound when the animal ran into its path. Slight damage resulted to the front of her 1962 sedan.

The deer was badly hurt and had to be destroyed.

Janet Louise Reed Atlas, 23, of Shadyside Ave., suffered minor injuries when her car wrecked on Route 7, eight-tenths of a mile north of Route 558 Monday at 10:05 a. m.

Officers said she was southbound and started to apply her brakes as she came upon traffic. The car slid off the right side of the road and came to rest in some small trees. Moderate damage resulted to the front of the 1966 sedan.

A pickup truck operated by Horace H. Robbins, 67, of New Waterford R. D. 1 and a car driven by Freda Helen Thomas, 56, of Salem figured in a crash at 8:45 a. m. yesterday on Route 14A, a mile and seven-tenths east of Washingtonville.

Harold Spender, 26, of Salineville R. D. 1 was cited for driving an unsafe vehicle after he sideswiped 30 feet of guard rail along Route 45 three and six-tenths miles south of Salem Monday at 9:45 a. m.

He was northbound when he lost control during a rain storm and went off the highway, officers said.

Palestine Slates PUCO Protest On Gas Firm's Move

EAST PALESTINE — A formal resolution of protest to be presented to the Ohio Public Utilities Commission concerning the scheduled closing of the East Ohio Gas Co. office here was approved by Council Monday night.

The legislators discussed the closing with Raymond Lohr, Youngstown district manager for the utility, who said the step still is planned for July 1 despite previous protests from Council.

Lohr pointed out the union is insisting all troubleshooter work now being done by Charles McGuire, not a union member, is to be done by union members from the Youngstown office.

McGuire has indicated he may retire after 47 years with the firm rather than drive from Youngstown.

In other action, Council approved purchase of a $300 standby electric generator for the City Hall for use in the event regular power fails. This would permit operation of police radios and other equipment in emergencies.

Junior Editors Quiz on AMERIGO VESPUCCI

QUESTION: Where did America get its name?

ANSWER: America is named from Amerigo Vespucci, who was born in Florence, Italy, and later moved to Spain, where he met Columbus. Columbus had not realized that he had discovered a new continent. He thought he had found Japan and the East Indies. When Vespucci sailed as a pilot with a Spanish expedition, and his ship touched the mainland of South America, he also believed this coast was part of the fabulous East, which all these explorers were trying to find. On another trip, in 1501, Vespucci reached the Brazilian coast and sailed south. Here something important happened: he realized at last that this was not the east, but a whole new continent. Back home, he was able to convince others of this. In 1507, a German mapmaker suggested the New World be called America because Amerigo Vespucci had been the first to realize it really was a new world. At first, the name America was only given to South America, but was later extended to North America as well.

In 1942, 16 overloaded B25s took off from the deck of the carrier Hornet. Led by Lt. Gen. James Doolittle, they attacked Tokyo and other Japanese cities in the first effort to bring the war to the Japanese homeland.

In 1946, the League of Nations came to an official end.
